Adobe Acrobat PDF Files

Adobe® Portable Document Format (PDF) is a universal file format that preserves all of the fonts, formatting, colours and graphics of any source document, regardless of the application and platform used to create it.

Adobe PDF is an ideal format for electronic document distribution as it overcomes the problems commonly encountered with electronic file sharing.

- Anyone, anywhere can open a PDF file. All you need is the free Adobe Acrobat Reader. Recipients of other file formats sometimes can't open files because they don't have the applications used to create the documents.
- PDF files always print correctly on any printing device
- PDF files always display exactly as created, regardless of fonts, software and operating systems. Fonts, and graphics are not lost due to platform, software and version incompatibilities.
- The free Acrobat Reader is easy to download and can be freely distributed by anyone
- Compact PDF files are smaller than their source files and download a page at a time for fast display on the Web

ß review and reflect in a scholarly manner on current trends in secondary school curriculum and instruction (Strands I II III IV V VI)

COURSE/LEARNER OBJECTIVES Course objectives are tied to the six Interstate School Leaders Licensure Consortium s (ISLLC) Standards and the Technology Standards for School Administrators (TSSA) a product of the TSSA Collaborative These two sets of standards along with the Southern Educational Leadership Board s Critical Success Factor s (SREB CSF) for P-12 School Leaders the Commonwealth of Kentucky's Standards and Indicators for School Improvement (SISI) and the Annsley Frazer Thornton School of Education (AFTSE) Program Objectives comprise the backbone of the Bellarmine program for principal preparation In reference to the AFTSE Conceptual Framework this course provides experiences that enhance a candidate s ability with the following knowledge bases

- Collaboration
- Pedagogy and Curriculum Development
- Dispositions

In light of the Bellarmine AFTSE theme "Educator as Reflective Learner " students will be required to use Valli s five types of reflections

Valli's Five Types of Reflection	Connection to the Reflective Practice Preparation Program
Technical reflection The educator matches one s own performance to a external guidelines. Content of th s form of reflection centers on general instruction and management behaviors based on research of teaching	Reflective inquiry encourages a continuous relationship between experience and understanding which promotes a Triad of Life-Long Learning research reflection and refinement Relying upon recognized bodies of knowledge educators perceive relationships and connections between parts of the teach ng and learning process This style of thinking develops within each teacher a critical disposition for broad-based problem-solving abilities and also nurtures life-long learning
Reflection-in and on-action The educator bases decisions on one s own unique situation and considers personal teaching performance	Reflective thinking involves continuous assessment, creating a balance between new information and the critical examination of prior teaching experiences relevant to the new information
Deliberative reflection The educator weighs competing viewpoints and research findings regarding a whole range of pedagogical concerns/decisions (e g., curriculum instructional strategies rules and organization of classroom etc)	Educators while exercising freedom of choice for themselves and learners rely on a strong research base as a guide for the r pedagogy Educators furthermore are responsible for relating such activ es within various styles of performance in order to meet the diverse needs of students
Personalistic reflection The educator listens to and trusts one s own inner voice and the voices of others Content for this type of reflection includes personal growth and relationships with students	The reflective thinker knows that not only are one's feelings emotions and cognition closely related but they are highly interactive in the teaching and learning process.
Critical reflection The educator considers the social moral and political dimensions of schooling and judges these dimensions in light of the eth cal criteria such as social justice and equality of opportunity	As the educator models reflective thinking s/he encourages the same kind of thinking in her/his students. Such thinking—open-m ndedness and discernment rational judgment and creativity—is likely to transfer to other aspects of students lives

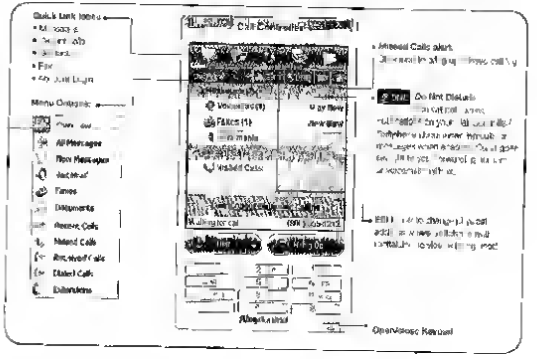
Call Controller with SoftPhone Quick Start Guide



Tips for best softphone voice quality:

4. Use headset with microphone. Built-in computer microphones and external microphones are not recommended for softphone use.

5. We recommend a high speed DSL, cable or fiber connection with an upstream speed of 90Kbps or greater. Check your DSL or cable modem settings to ensure that it is configured to operate in full duplex mode. If you are using a wireless connection, ensure that it is configured to operate in full duplex mode. Also, to ensure optimal voice quality, close any programs that may be using your computer's network connection, including peer-to-peer software, streaming media software, and software updates.

6. Run the Audio Tuning Wizard found in your Call Controller. Click Settings > Audio and follow the instructions.

Featured Technology

The Unify™ system eliminates the stress and confusion of connecting audio/video sources to a Lifestyle® system, and configures the Bose® universal remote to control almost all connected source devices.

- Connecting devices—The Unify system guides the user through the entire setup process by showing the best connection methods and which inputs to use. It even verifies the connections that are made, so that the user can be confident they've set up their system correctly.
- Programming the remote control—Programming a conventional universal remote control is a time consuming and frustrating trial-and-error process. The Unify system offers a new and improved approach. Each remote and button has a unique "signature," much like a fingerprint. The Unify system compares the signatures it has captured against its internal database and, if found, identifies the remote and programs your Lifestyle® system's remote to work with the attached device.

Adobe Acrobat PDF Files

Adobe® Portable Document Format (PDF) is a universal file format that preserves all of the fonts, formatting, colours and graphics of any source document, regardless of the application and platform used to create it.

Adobe PDF is an ideal format for electronic document distribution as it overcomes the problems commonly encountered with electronic file sharing.

- Anyone, anywhere can open a PDF file. All you need is the free Adobe Acrobat Reader. Recipients of other file formats sometimes can't open files because they don't have the applications used to create the documents.
- PDF files always print correctly on any printing device.
- PDF files always display exactly as created, regardless of fonts, software and operating systems. Fonts and graphics are not lost due to platform, software and version incompatibilities.
- The free Acrobat Reader is easy to download and can be freely distributed by anyone.
- Compact PDF files are smaller than their source files and download a page at a time for fast display on the Web.

service. HP cannot guarantee that the HP fax product will work with a VoIP service.

Use these steps to change the fax speed adjustment to a lower speed.

1. Press the Setup button ( ) on the product control panel.
2. Press the down arrow ( ) to select Advanced Fax Setup, and then press 2.
3. Press the down arrow ( ) to select Fax Speed, and then press 2.
4. Press the down arrow ( ) to select Medium, and then press 2.
5. Try to send and receive a fax.

If the HP fax product still cannot send or receive faxes, try lowering the fax speed even further. If needed, contact the VoIP provider so they might have options to improve the ability to send and receive faxes over VoIP telephone service.

Try to send and receive a fax again. If the HP fax product still cannot send or receive a fax, continue to the next solution.

Solution four: Reinitialize the HP fax

1. With the HP fax product turned on, disconnect the power cord from the back of the HP fax product and from the electrical outlet.
2. Connect one end of the telephone cord to the telephone jack and then connect the other end of the cord to the port labeled 1-Line on the back of the HP fax product.
3. Reconnect the power cord to the back of the HP fax product and then reconnect the power cord to the electrical outlet.
4. After the HP fax product reaches a ready state, try to send and receive a fax again.

If the HP fax product still cannot send or receive a fax, continue to the next solution.

Solution five: Check the fax connections

1. Disconnect the telephone cord from the HP fax product and examine the connector on the end of the cord. Make sure that the cord has only two wires.

If the cord has four wires, replace it with a cord that has two wires.

NOTE If a four-wire cord is required, use the converter that shipped with the HP fax product. The converter allows a cord with four wires to work with a HP product that requires a cord with two wires.

2. Connect one end of the telephone cord to the telephone jack and then connect the other end of the cord to the port labeled 1-Line on the back of the HP fax product.

Prayer to St. Joseph over 1900 years old

O St. Joseph whose protection is so great, so strong, so prompt before the Throne of God, I place in you all my interests and desires O St Joseph do assist me by your powerful intercession and obtain for me from your Divine Son all spiritual blessings through Jesus Christ Our Lord, so that having engaged here below your Heavenly power I may offer my Thanksgiving and Homage to the most Loving of Fathers O St. Joseph I never weary contemplating you and Jesus asleep in your arms I dare not approach while He reposes near your heart Press him in my name and kiss His fine Head for me, and ask Him to return the Kiss when I draw my dying breath. St. Joseph, Patron of departing souls, pray for us Amen

Say for nine consecutive mornings for anything you may desire It has seldom been known to foil.

This prayer was found in the fiftieth year of Our Lord Jesus Christ In 1500's it was sent by the Pope to Emperor Charles when he was going into battle

Whoever reads this prayer or hears it or carries it, will never die a sudden death, nor be drowned, nor will poison take effect on them They will not fall into the hands of the enemy nor be burned in any fire, nor will they be defeated in battle

Make this prayer known everywhere

The undersigned acting for all Sangoma Hardware and the associated Software, agrees that any Sangoma Software are valuable trade secrets of Sangoma or its licensors or suppliers.

You shall not disclose the Source code, make it available in any way, or the Hardware, Software or Licensed Products, except to the extent that the terms of this Agreement expressly provide you have the right to do so, and to maintain any trade secrets of Sangoma or its licensors or suppliers. You shall not copy the Software, except as set forth in this Agreement. You shall not modify, translate, reverse engineer, decompile, disassemble (except to the extent applicable laws specifically prohibit such restriction), create derivative works based on the Software, or copy the Software (except as otherwise expressly permitted in this Agreement). You shall not rent, lease, sublicense, lend, assign, time share or transfer in any way the Software or any interest in the Software without the prior written consent of Sangoma and your agreement to abide by all the terms and conditions of this Agreement. You may not use the Software for the benefit of any third party. You agree that you will not attempt in any manner to interfere with or disrupt the Software or Sangoma's provision of services to any other user of the Software. You will indemnify Sangoma and hold Sangoma harmless from any claims, losses, liabilities, damages, fines, penalties, costs and expenses (including attorney's fees) arising from or relating to your use of the Software in violation of this Agreement.

You own the media on which the Software is originally recorded but Sangoma and its licensors and suppliers retain ownership of all copies of the Software itself. Title and intellectual property rights in and to the Software, and any modifications to the Software made by or on behalf of you, including but not limited to any images, photographs, animations, video, audio, music, text and "applets" incorporated into the Software, are owned by Sangoma or its licensors or suppliers, except that you own any data or material you enter into the Software for use with the Software in the operation of your business. Your rights to use the Software shall be subject to the terms of this Agreement. Sangoma reserves all rights not expressly granted to you in this Agreement.

Limited Warranty:

Sangoma warrants that the Software will perform substantially in accordance with the accompanying written materials for a period of ninety (90) days from the date of receipt. Any implied warranties on the Software are limited to ninety (90) days. Some states do not allow limitations on duration of an implied warranty, so the above limitation may not apply to you. To the extent allowed by applicable law, Sangoma disclaims all warranties, either express or implied, including but not limited to implied warranties of merchantability and fitness for a particular purpose, with respect to the Software and the accompanying written materials. This limited warranty gives you specific legal rights. You may have others, which vary from state to state. To the extent allowed by applicable law, Sangoma reserves the right to discontinue Hardware or Software, or to change or revise specifications, price, or features at any time without obligation or notice. Sangoma does not warrant that the Software will be free from bugs, errors, omissions, viruses or other defects.

Limitation of Liability:

To the extent allowed by applicable law, in no event shall Sangoma be liable for any damages whatsoever (including, without limitation, damages for loss of business profits, business interruption, loss of business information, or any other pecuniary loss) arising out of the use of or inability to use the Software, even if Sangoma has been advised of the possibility of such damages. In any case, Sangoma's entire liability under any provision of this Agreement shall be limited to the amount actually paid by you for the Software. Because some states do not allow the exclusion or limitation of liability for consequential or incidental damages, the above limitation may not apply to you.

Termination:

Without prejudice to any other rights, Sangoma may terminate this Agreement if you fail to comply with the terms and conditions of this Agreement. In such event, you must destroy all copies of the Software in your possession.

Entire Agreement:

This Agreement sets forth all rights for the user of the Software and is the entire agreement between the parties. This Agreement supersedes any other communications with respect to the Software and documentation. This Agreement may not be modified except by a written addendum issued by a duly authorized representative of Sangoma. No provision hereof shall be deemed waived unless such waiver shall be in writing and signed by Sangoma or a duly authorized representative of Sangoma. If any provision of this Agreement is held invalid, the remainder of this Agreement shall continue in full force and effect. Nursery Tips

1. Go to Green Sheet when you get here to look for new babies overnight
2. Look up mom in Omn
   a) Labs – serologies (HIV, RPR, Hep B Hep C, Rubella)
   b) Micro – GBS, GC
   c) Imaging – Ultrasounds
   d) Sometimes serologies can't be found in omn, look in mom's chart in yellow OB note under flowsheet section of chart
3. See babies
   a) Discharges – vitals, intakes, weight, discharge bili, exam (follow up (F)PHC on MWF, 47th Street on T, Th, or outpt dc day) Ideally do discharge talk the day before to make it easier. Parents need to make the outside doc appointment themselves. Tell them about this on first day so they have time to do that. DCAM (Mendelsohn, Schwab, and Park) accept new patients if they have private insurance. page them directly to set up appt)
   b) New babies
      1. Fill out case record. Look for delivery case record, penis code note, and Nurses yellow sheet for weight/length/HC/initial bili
      2. Exam baby – be sure to document red reflex, fem pulses
      3. Talk to mom and get pregnancy history, PMH, use of tob/etoh/illicits, family history, living conditions (who will live at home, smokers, pets, car seat, crib, smoke detector, CO detector)
   c) Visits – get vitals (ins and outs, new weight (and previous day's weight), must eyeball to see if jaundice and need to check bili. Do not need to do full exam (unless looking for something specific)
4. Length of stay – L/S – 72h, VD – 48h, but be flexible! We like baby and mom to leave together but doesn't always happen
5. Hep B – if do not know mom's serology, baby needs vaccine within 12h and (im)immunoglobulin within 1 wk if mom positive
6. Sign-out – until 7pm it is next intern on call 6361, after that it is mp at 6360
7. Bili – follow bilirubin nomogram. Think about possible risk factors (breastfeeding, pressure, etc) when assessing therapy thresholds. Once a baby is on lights, must check TSB (not TCB)

Important 9-1-1 Information

We want to make sure that you are aware of important differences in the way 9-1-1 service operates with a VoIP phone when compared with traditional telephone service. Here's what you need to keep in mind:

Differences between traditional 9-1-1 service and VoIP phone 9-1-1
With traditional telephone service, your 9-1-1 call is sent directly to the nearest emergency response center. With VoIP phone service, your 9-1-1 call is forwarded to a third-party service provider that will automatically or manually route your call to the emergency response center.

Remember to provide your location—Before you can make your VoIP phone between locations and because of technical reasons, the emergency operator may not know your name, location or call back number unless you provide it immediately. Inform the emergency operator of your location and contact particulars any time you call 9-1-1. Do not risk sending police or ambulance services to the wrong location.

Be prepared during any service interruption—VoIP phone service depends not only on your continued subscription and payment for the service, but also on Internet connectivity and power to function. In the event of power, network or Internet outages (including congestion), or if your service is disconnected or suspended due to non-payment, you may experience a failure, disruption or delay in your 9-1-1 service. We recommend that you keep an alternative phone service (such as a cellular telephone) handy to increase the reliability of your access to emergency services during any service interruption.

Do not disconnect—Until you are told to do so by an emergency dispatcher, do not disconnect your 9-1-1 call. If you are inadvertently disconnected, call back immediately.

Keep your service address up to date—Your Communication Corp or its third party contractor will attempt to provide the emergency operator with your service address, so please ensure that your information on file with us is always accurate and updated. If you do not do this, for example, if you are unable to speak during a 9-1-1 call, the emergency operator may assume that you are calling from the last registered address.

Inform other users—You must notify members of your household and other potential users of your VoIP phone service of the risks and limitations of 9-1-1 emergency calls. To make this easier, obtain the included stickers and place them on or near your telephone sets.

Limitations of liability—Our Subscriber Agreement limits and disclaims liability related to VoIP 9-1-1 service so please read these carefully.

We limit our total liability to you in respect of our 9-1-1 services as we do not have any control over whether or the manner in which calls using our 9-1-1 service are answered or addressed by any valid emergency response centre. We disclaim all responsibility for the conduct of local emergency response centres and other third party emergency calling centres. We rely on third parties to assist us in routing 9-1-1 calls to local emergency response centres and to a valid emergency calling centre. We disclaim any and all liability or responsibility in the event such third party units used to route calls is incorrect or yields erroneous results. Neither magicJack nor its officers or employees may be held liable for any claim, damage, or loss, and you hereby waive any and all such claims or causes of action arising from or relating to our 9-1-1 service unless such claims or causes of action arise from our gross negligence, recklessness or wilful misconduct. You shall defend, indemnify and hold harmless magicJack, its officers, directors, employees, affiliates and agents and any other service provider who furnishes services to you in connection with the Service, from any and all claims, losses, damages, fines, penalties, costs and expenses (including without limitation, legal fees and expenses) by or on behalf of you or any third party relating to the absence, failure or outage of the service, including 9-1-1 services, incorrectly routed 9-1-1 calls, and/or your inability for any user of the Service to be able to use 9-1-1 service or to access emergency service personnel.

For a complete description of our VoIP 9-1-1 services please see our Subscriber Agreement at http://www.magicjack.com/terms.aspx

B. Amplifier Configuration

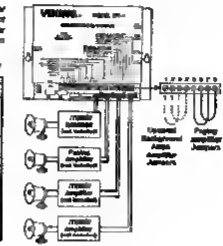
1. Four Amplifier Mode

In this mode each paging zone has its own amplifier, and the function of the ZPI-4 is to switch the amplified paging or background music signal to the appropriate amplifier.

Advantages: music is no amplifier power limited. rooms can be set to different volumes, background music is selectable per area and the non-paged zones will amplifier to get music during a page.

To set the ZPI-4 up in the four amplifier mode

Step 1.	Attach the ZONE 1 mono speakers to the front of the amplifier for Zone 1
Step 2.	If background music is to be switched on the ZONE rooms load the Audio 1 music source into the Stereo terminal with jack. If not, remove the jumper.
Step 3.	Repeat steps 1 and 2 for each of the remaining Zone Amps.
Step 4.	Install the included bracket if onto the optional Paging Amp screw terminal.
Step 5.	If a background music source is being used, install the Optional background music/amplifier jumper as shown.
Step 6.	Set DIP switch 1 to OFF
Step 7	Connect mono Amps speaker wires, inputs and amplifier



2. Two Amplifier Mode (Paging and Music)

In the two amplifier mode, one amp serves as the paging amplifier and the other as the background music amplifier. The paging or music signal is fed to the external amplifier amplifier and the amplified signal is amplifier by the ZPI-4 to the correct area, or zones.

Advantages: Up to a 200 watt amplifier may be used when driving 70V speakers, only (2) amplifiers for rest music amp/ are amplifier for 4 zones background music is selectable per zone, and the non-paged zones will amplifier to to get music during a page.

Limitations: The paging amp needs to be limited to 200 watts and the music amp needs to be limited to 75 watts watts switching 8 ohm speaker loads, each speaker zone is limited to 8 ohms maximum impedance and the amp must have the ability to drive the speakers of all loads (Example: 4 zones of 8 ohms per zone equals a 2 ohm load during an all call.)

To set up the ZPI-4 in the two amplifier mode.

Step 1.	Attach the ZONE 1 input terminals to the speaker(s) in Zone 1
Step 2.	If background music is to be switched on the zone, connect the the ZONE 1 music source into the Stereo inputting both pins. If background music is not desired, remove the jumper
Step 3.	Repeat steps 1 and 2 for each of the remaining three zones
Step 4.	Attach the paging amplifier and the music amplifier as shown in the picture
Step 5.	Set DIP switch 1 to OFF

To the right are pages that folks have faxed us recently. Click any thumbnail to see the large version and rate it for interestingness.

You can fax something interesting to 1-888-877-1655 (your boss will never notice... maybe) or 1-503-200-1300 (long distance to Portland, Oregon) and it should appear here within a couple of minutes. (It's a toll-free number if you're in the USA.) Keep it clean & legal.

Fax single-page documents with no cover sheet. If you fax more than one page, only the last page will appear here. We try to snip off the top few pixels of the page where your company name and fax number should appear, but make no promises that this will actually work.

Mozilla 2? Linux ubuntu 16Mhz (64bit) very usefull. it does work. I have an older computer(intel pentium dual cpu at 2.0 GHz, what 8Gb on RAM) and firefox was taking, for ever to open pages and new tabs. whit this tweak now is running way faster than before. thanks a lot :)

[illegible] ?
flyingz

yeah, sure
baba

hey thanks a lot....it worked

Good tips. thanks

[illegible]

For me, I'm running Mint 14 and the pipelining requests was under is defaulted to 32. I left all the same. I also didn't set content.notify.interval or config trim on. Although, I will read through some of the posts below. I set everything else as per the tutorial, and FF is definitely faster. thanks :)

[illegible]
Zyla Dalli

Seems to work with the tweaks. thanks for the post

Thank you so much for this tutorial!!!!!

@DFC-Johnny
elbuderx

thanks for the tips.
idea some well known settings for most experts

GU1
1) "config.trim_on_minimize" will only have an effect on windows-systems! and it also can slow down your whole system if it's swapping all the time*
2) for "network.http.max-persistent-connections" 8 will be enough* more is not necessary*
3) values below 100000 (120000 is the default) for "content.notify.interval" can also increase the page-loading-time and also slow down your system!
4) maybe you can also tweak "network.http.max-connections", "network.http.max-connections-per-server", "network.http.max-persistent-connections-per-server" and "network.http.max-persistent-connections-per-proxy"!? - i don't post values for these settings because everyone knows it better and has his own "right" setting :p!

--> for everybody who wants to know more about the "hidden" mozilla-settings look here: http://kb.mozillazine.org/Aboutconfig_entries

What happened was in the classroom we started playing a game with the hornets. The teacher only told the people that were shooting each other to stop. The only person I saw shooting people was Jordan. The game was just shooting pencils and pencil cases. Bryan and myself had started to wear the rubber bands around our wrists. We weren't going to shoot anyone. Someone had started to shoot the hornets I don't know who but Anthony said it was Matthew. Everyone else that was involved said they were hit by Matthew. I told them I got hit by him to. Matthew hit Bryan again and he got mad and told Matthew to stop. Then I got hit again from the direction Jordan was sitting in. I got angry and fired a warning shot at Lane's lunchbox then said stop. Jason fired one at the ground it bounced up and flew past the girl. I got hit a third time and aimed the rubber band at Jordan because it came from where Jordan was sitting pointed it at him and said stop. He told it wasn't him then my hand slipped and I accidently shot him. I told him I was sorry and he forgave me. Anthony was hit again but I have know idea who hit him. He shot one at Matthew because he thinks that's who hit him but the hornet missed and it hit Jason he of course said he was sorry. Jordan shot at Devin then one at Dennis but missed them both. The girl was never hit by anyone she is telling a lie. My intention was never to hit anyone at all but I had accidently shot Jordan.

Since your available area is somewhat limited, we suggest a modular layout. This concept emphasizes space conservation and yet still provides for a modern, pleasing atmosphere

Enclosed are two floor plans. The first one we'd really like to keep your present furniture. The second was designed with the intent on that our new space saving modules be used. Notice that the latter will provide for more spacious accommodations and/or room for additional personnel. Also included are the specification sheets on these products

After you have had a chance to study our ideas, I would like to set up a meeting during October to discuss any further refinements. I will have my secretary make the arrangements. Please call me in the interim if you have any questions

The Current Visual Data Exploration Paradigm

As a result of improving and facilitating computation, the scientific community is now routinely running models that produce Gbytes of data per run. One of the National Center for Atmospheric Research's (NCAR's) models produced a 200 Gbyte simulation. The scientific purpose of CVDP is to characterize, understand, and predict major modes of natural climate variability.

The CVDP is particularly concerned with decadal timescale variability associated with ocean–atmosphere interactions in the Pacific Ocean, such as the El Niño/Southern Oscillation (ENSO) cycle. The CVDP is also concerned with the study of multidecadal variability, as well as with its relationship to anthropogenic climate change. Current CVDP models are run on massively parallel supercomputers. The results of these models are archived on disk and tape storage devices connected to the supercomputer via a high-speed network. Typically, the archived data are subsequently retrieved by a workstation for postprocessing and analysis.

The CVDP's analysis and visualization requirements are representative of those of many computational science projects. Analysis requires the ability to examine both individual fields and the relationships between fields. Visualization requires the ability to display both individual fields and the relationships between fields. Examples of fields that are commonly visualized in CVDP studies are sea surface temperature (SST), sea surface height (SSH), and surface wind stress. Examples of relationships between fields that are commonly visualized are correlations between SST and SSH and between SST and surface wind stress.

The CVDP also provides graphical displays that allow researchers to view the results of their analyses. These displays can be used to produce images for publication. Many of these images display time-varying data. Examples of commonly used time-varying displays include animations and time-series plots. A key feature of these displays is that they allow researchers to view multiple fields simultaneously. For example, CVDP researchers frequently create animations that display SST and SSH fields simultaneously. Such animations allow researchers to examine the relationship between SST and SSH as a function of time. Time-series plots are frequently used to display the correlation between SST and surface wind stress as a function of time.

Life is not grey

Sometimes Sh*t doesn't work out.

IGG#131 se puede utilizar para reducir significativamente la grasa corporal y bajar tallas, cuando se elabora de una forma específica.

¿A llevna qué? Ahora la fórmula "perfecta" de IGG# 131, está disponible en el nuevo producto "Perfect African Mango" de que te he estado hablando... Sí, es cierto: "Perfect African Mango" contiene la fórmula propietaria del mango africano que reduce hasta 5 pulgadas de cintura y fuerza a su cuerpo a quemar grasa como mantequilla en un microondas

Aquí hay algunos hechos interesantes y comentarios de personas que han utilizado este producto

- Una mujer llamada Elsa Roldan de Mayagüez, rebajó 10 libras en 1 mes por usar "Perfect African Mango" Ella dice que sus niveles de azúcar han sido los mejores en muchos meses.
- Una mujer llamada Alba Morales de Guayama, perdió 5 libras en 3 días. Ella dice que no pasa hambre y que toma mucha agua.
- Daisy González de Aguadilla rebajó 10 libras en 3 semanas por usar "Perfect African Mango"
- Otra mujer de Mayagüez, su nombre es Angucelly Ramírez, perdió 5 libras en la primera semana y 11 libras en el primer mes. Ella dice que es la prueba viviente de lo efecuvo que es este producto.
- Un hombre llamado Ramón Feliciano de Guayama usó "Perfect African Mango" y rebajó 8 libras en tres semanas.
- ¡Daisy Rasa de Bayamón rebajó 15 libras y bajó 6 pulgadas de cintura por usar "Perfect African Mango ! Ella dice que siente mucha energía y no le da nada de hambre Ahora, al fin, ni también puedes ajustarte esas libras que tienes le más. Te diré cómo conseguir tu propio suministro de Perfect African Mango" en un minuto... pero primero déjame contarte los hechos científicos que explican por qué este producto te ayudará (en tiempo récord) a rebajar y mantener tu peso ideal

GORDO O FLACO: LAS CÉLULAS DE TU CUERPO TOMAN LA DECISIÓN

> "...he bajado de talla 16 a talla 10 y en peso he bajado 15 libras..."

Mira, no importa si te acabas de comer un plato de chuletas con arroz y habichuela y amarillitos fritos o si picaste solo un poquito de una ensalada. ¿Sabes? Una vez las células de tu cuerpo toman control de las calorías de la comida que te comes son esas células de tu cuerpo y NO tú quienes deciden transformar las calorías en energía o transformar las calorías en grasa. También las células deciden si queman o no la grasa "almacenada en tu cuerpo para obtener energía.

¿Cómo las células de tu cuerpo toman esta decisión tan crucial entre grasa o energía? Bueno, si tienes suerte (y menos de 24 años) tus células están programadas para escoger energía. Sin embargo, si estás sobrepeso puede que tengas un pequeño "error de programación" que afecta la habilidad que tienen para escoger energía. En vez, tus células permiten que se almacenen demasiadas calorías en forma de grasa... además de que... a menudo se resisten tercamente a quemar la grasa almacenada en tu cuerpo para obtener energía ¡aunque dejes de comer con una dieta extremadamente baja en calorías!

El resultado final tienes menos energía y más grasa corporal Esa es la mala noticia. La buena noticia es que, ahora nosotros sabemos que...

¿Es la ciencia y no la voluntad, la clave para bajar de peso!

La verdad es que los doctores y las científicos han trabajado por años para aislar (y separar) ciertas sustancias que ordenen a tus células a quemar grasa y producir energía.

Lo que descubrieron finalmente (y tuvieron que ir todo el camino hasta Africa para hacerlo) fue un potente inhibidor de grasa y "activador de energía" que puede ayudar a corregir el ciclo de producción y almacenamiento excesivo de grasa en personas obesas o sobrepeso y eso es lo que "Perfect African Mango" tiene.

Vamos al grano. "Perfect African Mango" es considerado por muchas personas (incluyéndome a mí) como la mejor solución para personas que tienen que bajar de peso y si quieres probarlo puedes obtener tu propio suministro que viene con una GARANTÍA INCONDICIONAL de devolución de tu dinero

No sólo eso, sino que si compras suministro para 60 días también recibirás un "regalo sorpresa" que no está disponible en ninguna otra parte del mundo.

¿Adivina qué más? Si estás insatisfecho con "Perfect African Mango" por cualquier razón simplemente devuelve los envases vacíos (nos gustaría que uuilices el suministro completo para que obtengas la mejor oportun dad de éxito) dentro de 60 días Tu precio de compra completo será reembolsado... y

¡No tienes que devolver tu "regalo sorpresa"!

Es fácil comprar En Camuy Farmacia Solnari, es el único establecimiento comercial autorizado a vender este producto. Lo único que tienes que hacer es visitarlos en la carretera 115 km 5 ¢ (Bo. Puente Sector Zalza) en Camuy PR.

Top 10 Tips for Deducting Losses from a Disaster

IRS Special Edition Tax Tip 2015-08, May 26, 2015 Español

To mark National Hurricane Preparedness Week, the IRS wants you to know it stands ready to help. If you suffer damage to your home or personal property, you may be able to deduct the losses you incur on your federal income tax return. Here are 10 tips you should know about deducting casualty losses:

1. Casualty loss. You may be able to deduct losses based on the damage done to your property during a disaster. A casualty is a sudden, unexpected or unusual event. This may include natural disasters like hurricanes, tornadoes, floods and earthquakes. It can also include losses from fires, accidents, theft or vandalism.

2. Normal wear and tear. A casualty loss does not include losses from normal wear and tear. It does not include progressive deterioration from age or termite damage.

3. Covered by insurance. If you insured your property, you must file a timely claim for reimbursement of your loss. If you don't, you cannot deduct the loss as a casualty or theft. You must reduce your loss by the amount of the reimbursement you received or expect to receive.

4. When to deduct. As a general rule, you must deduct a casualty loss in the year it occurred. However, if you have a loss from a federally declared disaster area, you may have a choice of when to deduct the loss. You can choose to deduct the loss on your return for the year the loss occurred or on an amended return for the immediately preceding tax year. Claiming a disaster loss on the prior year's return may result in a lower tax for that year, often producing a refund.

5. Amount of loss. You figure the amount of your loss using the following steps:
   - Determine your adjusted basis in the property before the casualty. For property you buy, your basis is usually its cost to you. For property you acquire in some other way, such as inheriting it or getting it as a gift, you must figure your basis in another way. For more see Publication 551, Basis of Assets.
   - Determine the decrease in fair market value, or FMV, of the property as a result of the casualty. FMV is the price for which you could sell your property to a willing buyer. The decrease in FMV is the difference between the property's FMV immediately before and immediately after the casualty.
   - Subtract any insurance or other reimbursement you received or expect to receive from the smaller of those two amounts.

6. $100 rule. After you have figured your casualty loss on personal-use property, you must reduce that loss by $100. This reduction applies to each casualty loss event during the

How Can I Test My Fax Machine?

I just hooked up a new fax machine and I'd like to test it just to make sure it works. How can I do that?

Presumably you want to test your fax machine by sending a fax from it and receiving a fax with it. Here's how to do both:

To test the send functionality of your fax machine, send a one-page fax to 1 888 877 1655 (a toll-free number in the United States.) When it's finished transmitting, point your web browser to Fax Test — it's a fun web site that displays whatever is faxed to that number. Within a minute, your fax should appear on the site (click the thumbnail to see a large version).

To test the receive functionality of your fax machine, point your web browser to FaxZero; the site lets you send faxes for free to anywhere in the United States and Canada. Within a few minutes, your fax machine should ring — hopefully it will automatically answer and spit out the test fax.

Adobe Acrobat PDF Files

Adobe® Portable Document Format (PDF) is a universal file format that preserves all of the fonts, formatting, colours and graphics of any source document, regardless of the application and platform used to create it.

Adobe PDF is an ideal format for electronic document distribution as it overcomes the problems commonly encountered with electronic file sharing

- Anyone, anywhere can open a PDF file. All you need is the free Adobe Acrobat Reader. Recipients of other file formats sometimes can't open files because they don't have the applications used to create the documents
- PDF files always print correctly on any printing device.
- PDF files always display exactly as created, regardless of fonts, software, and operating systems. Fonts, and graphics are not lost due to platform, software and version incompatibilities.
- The free Acrobat Reader is easy to download and can be freely distributed by anyone
- Compact PDF files are smaller than their source files and download a page at a time for fast display on the Web

NOTICE: Never use plastic pipe. Check to confirm whether your local codes allow copper tubing or gas hoses.

NOTICE: Shut off no more than the above-mentioned quantities. Use more than a two inch diameter pipe or tubing and consult a professional.

Install Only a New Main Gas Cock

Each appliance and, on heavily used small gas cock 3 small cast iron gas cock should be installed when the appliance is first used. Never use cocks or valves in service that are not compatible with your local natural or installation or conversion or propane.

Consult with your professional or natural gas supplier if the pressure in the area is doubtful or questionable. The use of too small a pipe size will cause inadequate gas supply and pressure. Undersized pipe may cause incomplete combustion which can result in carbon monoxide poisoning, explosion or fire hazard.

⚠ WARNING

Never use an exposed flame to check for leaks. Appliance must be disconnected from the gas piping during any pressure testing of the gas supply piping system at test pressures in excess of 1/2 psig (3.5 kPa). Appliance must be isolated from the gas supply piping system by closing its individual manual shut-off valve during any pressure testing of the gas supply piping system at test pressures equal to or less than 1/2 psig (3.5 kPa).

Pressure Testing of Piping and Supply System

1. To check for the minimum the pressure is 8.0" (20mm) W.P.T. pressed equally so possible to read on open manometer, must be placed in readily visible area on the gas supply line within the same family.
2. The appliance and its individual shut-off valve must be disconnected from the gas supply piping system during any pressure testing of that system at test pressures in excess of 1/2 psig. 3.5 kPa.
3. If equipment rises for the need from the gas supply piping system by closing its individual manual shut-off valve during any pressure testing of the gas supply piping system at test pressures equal to or less than 1/2 psig (3.5 kPa).

⚠ WARNING

Check all the above pipe and valve joints for gas leaks. Use a soapy solution or other approved method. Do not use an open flame to test for gas leaks.

Check and Test Pressure

1 Series Safety of Natural gas will have a manifold pressure of approximately 3.5" W.C. (8.7 mbar) or 350 mm W.C. (87.0 kPa) or 1.7" W.C. (4.2 mbar) or 170 mm W.C. (0.42 kPa) pressure. Gas manifold pressure is measured with the pressure switch on the main burner. Remove the pressure switch screw and connect a manometer. For the purpose of input adjustment, a minimum of 10" W.C. (24.9 mbar) or 1000 mm W.C. (2.49 kPa).

2 Series Hydraulic Pressure natural gas will have a manifold pressure of approximately 3.5" W.C. (8.7 mbar) or 350 mm W.C. (87.0 kPa) or 1.7" W.C. (4.2 mbar) or 170 mm W.C. (0.42 kPa). Gas manifold pressure is measured with the pressure switch on the main burner. Remove the pressure switch screw and connect a manometer. For the purpose of input adjustment, a minimum of 10" W.C. (24.9 mbar) or 1000 mm W.C. (2.49 kPa).

3 Series Mode of propane gas will have a manifold pressure approximately 10" W.C. (24.9 mbar) or 1000 mm W.C. (2.49 kPa) or 5" W.C. (12.4 mbar) or 500 mm W.C. (1.24 kPa). Gas manifold pressure is measured with the pressure switch on the main burner. Remove the pressure switch screw and connect a manometer. For the purpose of input adjustment, a minimum of 10" W.C. (24.9 mbar) or 1000 mm W.C. (2.49 kPa).

4 Series Hydraulic Propane gas will have a manifold pressure approximately 10" W.C. (24.9 mbar) or 1000 mm W.C. (2.49 kPa) or 5" W.C. (12.4 mbar) or 500 mm W.C. (1.24 kPa). Gas manifold pressure is measured with the pressure switch on the main burner. Remove the pressure switch screw and connect a manometer. For the purpose of input adjustment, a minimum of 10" W.C. memorandum

from: A.P. Spraggs Research	to: G.V. Smith Project Planning
Tel. ext. 2041	date: 1-9-71

We know that, where possible, data is reduced to alphanumeric form for transmission by communication systems. However, this can be expensive, and also some data must remain in graphic form. For example we cannot key-punch an engineering drawing or weather map.

I think we should realise that high speed facsimile transmissions are needed to overcome our problems in efficient graphic data communication. We need research into graphics data compression.

Any comments?

Frequently Asked Questions Regarding Electronic Funds Transfers

What is an Electronic Funds Transfer (EFT)?
An electronic fund transfer allows you to either have funds drawn from your account (for example, making payments to accounts at financial institutions) or have funds deposited into your account (for example, receiving payroll deposits), on a recurring basis, or to initiate a single transfer, such as a payment by telephone or a payment at the point of sale.

What are the advantages of this payment method?
Convenience. We provide a convenient way to pay several recurring bills. For those of you choosing Your Bill Paid Automatically, you will not have to mail in your payments.

Can I pay by more than one authorization? Yes, you may authorize multiple payees.

Can I pay multiple payments via Electronic Funds Transfer?
Yes. You may select as many as you like. Dynamic Life pays the most optimized, timely payments for you quickly to ensure that you would not incur any late charges.

Can I request a receipt from the Electronic Funds Transfer?
Yes. We will display your account payment on your statement. You may also request a receipt at the time of payment by calling 1-800-[illegible].

How do I make changes in the amount of my transaction?
We will automatically adjust the amount of your transaction due to changes in your premium payment. If you do not have the ability to make these changes, please call 1-800-[illegible]. If you decide that you no longer want to make payments for your policy, you may do so by writing to us at the address on your billing statement. You may also cancel your Universal Life and Variable Universal Life policy at any time by writing to us at the address on your billing statement.

How do I stop a payment?
Call us at 1-800-[illegible] or write to us at the address on your billing statement. We must receive your request at least three (3) business days before the next payment is scheduled to be drawn. If you call, we may also require you to confirm your request in writing.

What if I think there is an error or my credit union or savings account has made a mistake?
If you think your statement is incorrect or you need more information about a transaction listed on your statement, please call us at 1-800-[illegible] or write us at the address on your billing statement as soon as you can. We must hear from you no later than 60 days after we sent you the first statement on which the problem or error appeared. You must:

- Tell us your name and account number.
- Describe the error or the transaction you are unsure about, and explain as clearly as you can why you believe it is an error or why you need more information.
- Tell us the dollar amount of the suspected error.

If you tell us orally, we may require that you send us your complaint or question in writing within ten (10) business days after we hear from you. We will determine whether an error occurred within ten (10) business days after we hear from you and will correct any error promptly. If we need more time, however, we may take up to forty-five (45) days to investigate your complaint or question. If we decide to do this, we will credit your account within ten (10) business days for the amount you think is in error, so that you will have the use of the money during the time it takes us to complete our investigation. If we ask you to put your complaint or question in writing and we do not receive it within ten (10) business days, we may not credit your account. For errors involving new accounts, point-of-sale or foreign-initiated transactions, we may take up to ninety (90) days to investigate your complaint or question and up to twenty (20) business days to credit your account for the amount you think is in error.

We will tell you the results within three (3) business days after completing our investigation. If we decide that there was no error, we will send you a written explanation. You may ask for copies of the documents that we used in our investigation.

What if I change my credit union or savings account?
We are only able to process payments to one account and credit union at a time. However, we will notify you of any changes to your account information. Please provide us with the new account information as soon as you have changed financial institutions. If you choose to change your account and you no longer have an account at your financial institution, we will notify you of the change. We will continue to process payments to your account for three months after we receive notification of the change.

What if I change financial institutions?
Notify us in writing via mail, or if you are Customer Service, we will process your request over the phone. Please provide us with the new account information, including the routing number, account number, and the name of the financial institution. Also, please allow at least 30 days for us to make the change. Please continue to make payments from your current account until you receive confirmation from us that the change has been made.

Can this transaction affect the guarantees in my policy?
No. Changing payment accounts will not affect the guarantees in your policy. However, if you do not have sufficient funds in the policy's monthly anniversary date, your policy may lapse. If you do not wish to pay premiums for a specific month, please call us at 1-800-[illegible] at least three days prior to the policy's monthly anniversary date. If you do not call, we will assume that you want us to pay the premium based on the policy's terms.

How can I cancel the plan?
Complete the cancellation form below and forward it to us immediately. We appreciate the opportunity to serve you and hope that we will be favorably considered for your continued support.

Hello
There

"Neque porro quisquam est qui dolorem ipsum quia dolor sit amet, consectetur, adipisci velit..."
"There is no one who loves pain itself, who seeks after it and wants to have it, simply because it is pain..."

Lorem Ipsum is simply dummy text of the printing and typesetting industry. Lorem Ipsum has been the industry's standard dummy text ever since the 1500s, when an unknown printer took a galley of type and scrambled it to make a type specimen book. It has survived not only five centuries, but also the leap into electronic typesetting, remaining essentially unchanged. It was popularised in the 1960s with the release of Letraset sheets containing Lorem Ipsum passages, and more recently with desktop publishing software like Aldus PageMaker including versions of Lorem Ipsum.

It is a long established fact that a reader will be distracted by the readable content of a page when looking at its layout. The point of using Lorem Ipsum is that it has a more-or-less normal distribution of letters, as opposed to using 'Content here, content here', making it look like readable English. Many desktop publishing packages and web page editors now use Lorem Ipsum as their default model text, and a search for 'lorem ipsum' will uncover many web sites still in their infancy. Various versions have evolved over the years, sometimes by accident, sometimes on purpose (injected humour and the like).

Contrary to popular belief, Lorem Ipsum is not simply random text. It has roots in a piece of classical Latin literature from 45 BC, making it over 2000 years old. Richard McClintock, a Latin professor at Hampden-Sydney College in Virginia, looked up one of the more obscure Latin words, consectetur, from a Lorem Ipsum passage, and going through the cites of the word in classical literature, discovered the undoubtable source. Lorem Ipsum comes from sections 1.10.32 and 1.10.33 of "de Finibus Bonorum et Malorum" (The Extremes of Good and Evil) by Cicero, written in 45 BC. This book is a treatise on the theory of ethics, very popular during the Renaissance. The first line of Lorem Ipsum, "Lorem ipsum dolor sit amet..", comes from a line in section 1.10.32.

The standard chunk of Lorem Ipsum used since the 1500s is reproduced below for those interested. Sections 1.10.32 and 1.10.33 from "de Finibus Bonorum et Malorum" by Cicero are also reproduced in their exact original form, accompanied by English versions from the 1914 translation by H. Rackham.

Vehicle ID	WDBJF65J6YB160292
Fair Market Value	$7,250.00
Reported Purchase Price	$3,000.00
Estimated Tax Due	$297.50

Dear Sir/Madam,

To ensure everyone pays his or her fair share of sales tax on motor vehicles and motorcycles, the Pennsylvania Department of Revenue monitors these sales transactions. When a purchase price varies significantly from industry standards for fair market value, the Department of Revenue must verify the purchase price of the vehicle and collect any additional tax due to the Commonwealth.

According to an approved industry guidebook, the average sales price for the year, make and model of the vehicle or motorcycle identified above is considerably higher than the purchase price you reported to the Department of Transportation.

If the price you reported is correct, please provide us with a legible copy of the bill of sale, statement from seller, financial agreement or other relevant information that verifies the purchase price. Please fax the documentation to 717-425-2954 or mail it using the enclosed pre-addressed envelope. See the enclosed information for guidance regarding acceptable documentation.

If the purchase price of your vehicle was incorrectly reported and additional sales tax is due, please complete the return below and remit it along with a check made payable to the Pennsylvania Department of Revenue for the additional tax owed, using the enclosed pre-addressed envelope. If you have any questions, please call us toll-free at 1-800-362-2050. If you have any questions or wish to discuss your check and/or documentation, you may write to the Department at the above address.

Thank you for your cooperation.

VICE PRESIDENTS REPORT
April 2009

The flyers for the Salmon BBQ have been printed and the pre-registration ribbons have been purchased and given to Carol Shopbell

Called Ed Schiffner and told him we thought square and round dancing would be better to show what we do

Don Cochrane will lead the Grand March. Have contacted the Honor Guard. They will be pleased to do that.

Caller and Cuer contracts were copied and sent to Harold and Debbie Edmiston. They have agreed to be hospitality hosts.

Have the paper work for Washington Trust Bank. Carol and Judy have signed, Donna can sign tonight

We are in the process of selecting a date for our first committee chair meeting. We will discuss that tonight.

Respectfully submitted,
Del and Eunice Erickson

If you forget this, you will have a lot of trouble.
Make sure no files failed to copy (FAILED column = 0)

Then you must remove the old Users Folder from the Windows/SSD (c:) drive, before you can create the symlink.
I used:
rmdir /S /Q E:\Users

Create a NTFS Junction/symlink that points to the new Users folder.

I used
mklink /J E:\Users D:\Users

Use the /J switch to create a junction that's a hard symlink. (If you use the /D switch, you'll also have to edit the registry, cuz it won't be a hard lnk.) Using /J, when Windows looks for the C:\Users dir, it will find it! But it will be on the HDD instead of the SSD. Tricky!

To see the proof of what you've created, still in the command prompt window, go into the actual Windows/SSD and do the "dir" command, and you'll see
" Users [D:\Users]"

Now restart and you'll see \Users on your HDD, and there you go. No further configuration or fiddling required. New user profiles will all be stored on the D: drive, as will any user specific data. And it is achievable without any messing about in the registry, searching and replacing values, or having to mess with new profiles in any way. Totally set and forget.

MEMORY RECALL OF OBSERVATIONS TEST

Oliver Bloch
Rye Country Day School

This test assesses your ability to recall details of familiar objects and situations, most of which you have experienced many times in your life. Answer each question as accurately as you can in the spaces provided. As you do so, try to be aware of your memory at work. In other words, what kinds of things do you do to assist the memory process? For example, do you close you eyes and try to visualize an object or scene? What does remembering (or failing to remember) feel like?

_____ 1) It is a clear, starry night and you see a crescent moon that looks like the drawing in the figure at right. Is the moon waxing or waning (in other words if you were to return tomorrow night, would the crescent be fuller (waxing) or less full (waning)?

_____ 2) On a standard traffic light, is the green at the top or the bottom?

_____ 3) The stripes on a man's tie usually slant downwards in what direction (right to left or left to right) from the wearer's viewpoint?

_____ 4) In Grant Wood's painting American Gothic, is the man to the left or the right (from the viewer's perspective)? (Note: this is a famous painting of a couple standing in a farm yard, the man holding a pitchfork. It has been parodied many times, for example with the couple represented as President and Mrs. Reagan. Remember it?)

_____ 5) In which hand is the Statue of Liberty's torch held?

_____ 6) Name all five colors on a Campbell's Chicken Noodle Soup label?

_____, _____, _____, _____, _____ (no partial credit)

_____ 7) What two letters of the alphabet do not appear on a standard telephone keypad?

_____ 8) When you walk, do your arms swing with (right with right, left with left) or against the rhythm of your legs?

_____ 9) On the American flag, is the uppermost stripe red or white?

_____ 10) On a standard computer keyboard, over which number is the "%" symbol?

_____ 11) Which way does the red diagonal slash go on the international "forbidden" sign (for example, a "no smoking" sign or the "ghostbusters" sign), from upper left to lower right or from lower left to upper right (from the viewer's perspective)?

_____ 12) Do books have their even numbered pages on the left or the right?

Virtual Fax Software

To the right are pages that folks have faxed us recently. Click any thumbnail to see the large version and click it for interesting uses.

You can fax something (via using to 1-888-479-1455 (your does not never notice maybe) or 1 503 200-1300 (long distance to Portland, Oregon) and it should appear here within a couple of minutes. (It's a toll-free number if you're in the USA.) Keep it clean & legal.

Fax single-page documents with no cover sheet. If you fax more than one page, only the last page will appear here. We try to snip off the top few pixels of the page where your company name and fax number should appear, but make no promises that this will actually work.

Subaru Outback

The Outback has a steady ride and commendable fuel economy for an all-wheel drive wagon. The redesign also brings a quieter cabin and more rear-seat and cargo space. The Outback's handling is good in routine driving but gets clumsy when pushed to the limits. Acceleration from the horizontally-opposed, four-cylinder engine is just adequate, and it can become noisy when pressed. The optional six-cylinder engine is quieter and quicker though it's less fuel efficient, and it adds about $3,000 to the sticker. We expect above-average reliability.

Handling, ride, and drivetrain

Routine handling is quite responsive and pleasant, but the steering feels a little less crisp than before. When the Outback is pressed to its cornering limits, handling gets rather sloppy more like an SUV than a wagon. The body leans a good deal and the tall cars start sliding out while the stability control system's slow to step in. The Outback is ultimately secure, but it proved a fairly low speed negotiating our avoidance maneuver and inspired little driver confidence doing so.

The Outback rides steadily and soaks up most road flaws with muted jiggles and very modest body motions even on dire roads. The highway ride is quite smooth. In the cabin, road noise is well suppressed, but you can hear some driver-room whine and it's rather pronounced engine drone at high revs.

A 170-hp horizontally-opposed 2.5-liter four-cylinder is the base engine. Acceleration is better than before but is still just adequate. The CVT works well when driving leisurely but tends to zing to the higher-rev ranges when the engine is noisy when merging or climbing hills. An overrev feature lets you select among six virtual gear ratios. Fuel economy is a very good 26 mpg overall. A six-cylinder 256-hp horizontally-opposed engine teamed with a five-speed automatic transmission comes in the 3.6R versions.

Inside the cabin

The interior is nicely finished and mostly well ventilated. Many pleasant and handy touches are widely featured.

There's a ample space all around, and a tilt-and-telescoping steering wheel helps make for a very good driving position. The leather seats are well shaped and nicely padded, and the power lumbar support is a welcome addition. Our only complaint was that short seat cushion which provides limited thigh support. Rear-seat comfort was large indeed, and three adults can sit in the back with relative ease. The room is a bit tight though.

Controls are straightforward and the gauges are easy to read. The climate system worked well, but its buttons are a little low. Some minor controls are a little awkward to reach.

With the 60/40-split rear seatbacks folded cargo space is fairly generous. The low rear sill aids loading.

MORE TEST FINDINGS

Rear-seat comfort rank can be boosted at the limits to reduce wind noise.

Braking Very good overall

Headlights Low beams reach only a few obstacles and have a short throw. High beams throw very good forward illumination and intensity.

Access Easy thanks to high roof line and large door openings.

Visibility Good. Rear head restraints block some rear view.

Cabin storage Adequate

Head restraints Current-year restraints must be raised to be effective

Child seats In installing a child seat, we found the center seat to be rather awkward. It can also be hard to secure a rear-facing seat using the belts in the outboard seats. But it's fairly easy to secure seats using LATCH anchors.

How Can I Test My Fax Machine?

I just hooked up a new fax machine, and I'd like to test it, just to make sure it works. How can I do that?

Presumably, you want to test your fax machine by sending a fax from it and receiving a fax with it. Here's how to do both:

To test the send functionality of your fax machine, send a one page fax to 1-855 330-1239 (a toll free number in the United States.) When it's finished transmitting, point your web browser to Fax Toy — it's a fun web site that displays whatever is faxed to that number. Within a minute, your fax should appear on the site. Click the thumbnail to see a large version.

To test the receive functionality of your fax machine, point your web browser to FaxZero; this site lets you send faxes for free to anywhere in the United States and Canada. Within a few minutes, your fax machine should ring — hopefully, it will automatically answer and spit out the test fax.

Figure 2. XV3 THREE-WAY CROSSOVER SCHEMATIC. Midrange and tweeters with impedances other than 8 ohms (e.g., either 4 or 16 ohms) are accommodated by use of extra resistors on the L-pads. The woofer section accommodates 4 or 8 ohm woofer by use of a tapped inductor (air-core coil) to achieve the correct matching. Incorrect matching will shift the crossover frequencies off their intended values. A printed circuit pad is supplied with the XV3 kit to permit wiring simple and reliable. Wires from the crossover to the rear speakers are colored-coded: blue = woofer + red = tweeter yellow = tweeter + black = common leads to all speakers.

2 EEB Process

2.1 Introduction

Even at 1,000,000:1 typical sequential contrast, overlapping black fields projected by adjacent channels in a display system will result in a visible "double brightness" overlap region when dark-adapted

It is therefore necessary to adjust the black levels outside the overlap regions of adjacent projectors to ensure uniform brightness across the image

To bring all black levels the same, the non-overlapping regions need to have their black levels adjusted to match the overlapping region.

Enhance Electronic Blending (EEB) enables adjustments to be made to individual projectors. Uniform brightness across the image is achieved by increasing the black video level of adjacent projectors outside the overlap region. This gives a seamless black level display.

Astro-Physics Roland's Meridian Flip Routine tmt

When a scope (or finder in this case) is not orthogonal to the mount it will be off by twice the orthogonal error when doing the Meridian Flip. So, using logic, one starts with Vega perfectly centered on the finder crosshairs in the East. After the flip, the star will be off N-S due to altitude angle error, and E-W due to orthogonal error. In both cases one does the exact same thing - move the star 1/2 way to the crosshair center with the adjusters and bring it the rest of the way with the N-S and E-W buttons. For the N-S you move the alt axis screw, for the orthogonal E-W direction you move the finderscope's adjustment screws. When you are done and the star is perfectly centered on the crosshairs, you do a Recal to fix this new physical position into the servos as the actual RA/Dec co-ordinate of Vega.

Now that Vega is again on the crosshair with the scope in the West, do the iteration again, same way by flipping the scope over to the East. Each iteration will bring Vega closer to the center of the crosshairs. Once it remains centered on each side of the meridian, you are finished. The mount's altitude axis is properly set and the finderscope's adjuster screws are also properly set, so you are 1/2 power aligned and the finder is perfectly orthogonal.

What is the National Environmental Policy Act?

The National Environmental Policy Act (NEPA) was signed into law on January 1, 1970. NEPA requires federal agencies to assess the environmental effects of their proposed actions prior to making decisions. The range of actions covered by NEPA is broad and includes:

- making decisions on permit applications,
- adopting federal land management actions, and
- constructing highways and other publicly-owned facilities

Using the NEPA process, agencies evaluate the environmental and related social and economic effects of their proposed actions. Agencies also provide opportunities for public review and comment on those evaluations.

On this page

- What does NEPA require?
- How do federal agencies carry out the NEPA requirements?

What does NEPA require?

Title I of NEPA contains a Declaration of National Environmental Policy. This policy requires the federal government to use all practicable means to create and maintain conditions under which man and nature can exist in productive harmony.

Section 102 in Title I of the Act requires federal agencies to incorporate environmental considerations in their planning and decision-making through a systematic interdisciplinary approach. Specifically, all federal agencies are to prepare detailed statements assessing the environmental impact of and alternatives to major federal actions significantly affecting the environment. These statements are commonly referred to as Environmental Impact Statements (EIS) and Environmental Assessments (EA).

Title II of NEPA established the President's Council on Environmental Quality (CEQ) to oversee NEPA implementation. The duties of CEQ include:

- Ensuring that federal agencies meet their obligations under NEPA
- Overseeing federal agency implementation of the environmental impact assessment process
- Issuing regulations and other guidance to federal agencies regarding NEPA compliance.

I Presumably, you want to test your fax machine by sending a fax from it and receiving a fax with it. Here?s how to do both.

To test the send functionality of your fax machine, send a one-page fax to 1-510-545-0990 (a number in Northern California.) When it?s finished transmitting, point your web browser to Fax Toy http://faxtoy.net/ ? it?s a fun web site that displays whatever is faxed to that number. Within a minute, your fax should appear on the site. Click the thumbnail to see a large version.

To test the receive functionality of your fax machine, point your web browser to FaxZero. http://faxzero.com/ this site lets you send faxes for free to anywhere in the United States and Canada. Within a few minutes, your fax machine should ring ? hopefully, it will automatically answer and spit out the test fax.

Techniques for Answering Multiple Choice Questions

In addition to following good study habits, there are steps you can take during an exam to ensure you choose the correct answer

- Read the question carefully! The most common exam errors occur when students fail to accurately or thoroughly read each question

- Read all of the choices. Don't stop reading all of your options simply because you think you've already found the correct choice.

- If you are struggling with a question, try reposing each option as a true-or-false question.

- Even if you are unfamiliar with the question, try to use common sense or logic when selecting the best possible answer

- Take notice of all-or-nothing words or phrases. Examples include words such as "Every," "Always" and "All." These are less likely to be correct than words that offer room for exceptions or alternatives such as "Some," "Many" or "Few."

- Answer questions in the order they come. If you spend a great deal of time skipping around, you are likely to mistakenly leave some questions unanswered. If you are stuck on a question, put a mark off to the side and come back to it when you have answered the rest of the questions

- Guess! Nothing ventured, nothing gained, so never leave any question on a multiple-choice test blank.

1. Study Regularly

- The Two Hour Rule: The general rule is that for every hour of time you spend in class, you should spend two hours of your own time studying the material

- Plan Your Study Time. The amount of time you need may vary, but you should set aside time each week for reviewing study materials. At the beginning of week, consider the material you need to cover and estimate how long you will need to complete your assignments, readings, and reviews

- Schedule Study Time. Ideally you should schedule a specific block of time to devote to each subject. Even when you are busy, set aside short periods of time each day to concentrate on your class work.

As I was walking up the stair
I met a man who wasn't there
He wasn't there again today
Oh, how I wish he'd go away

When I came home last night at three
The man was waiting there for me
But when I looked around the hall
I couldn't see him there at all!
Go away, go away, don't you come back any more!
Go away, go away, and please don't slam the door

Last night I saw upon the stair
A little man who wasn't there
He wasn't there again today
Oh, how I wish he'd go away

5 Pasos para pagar la universidad

Ahora que ha tomado la decisión de ir a la universidad, deja que CollegeAnswer le ayude a completar los próximos pasos. Este simple y fácil proceso de cinco pasos le ayudará a responder las preguntas más importantes acerca de cómo pagar la universidad. Una vez que haya logrado lo básico, para obtener más información acerca de cómo planificar y pagar la universidad, visite CollegeAnswer.com, el recurso más completo de la Internet sobre cómo ir a la universidad, para padres y hijos.

Los 5 pasos para pagar la universidad

Paso 1. Comprender los costos de la universidad

La matrícula, los libros y el dinero para tener a mano son algunos de los componentes que conforman el costo total de ir a la universidad. También se llama Costo de Estudiar (COA). Familiarícese con estos gastos para que pueda presupuestar bien el paso siguiente.

Paso 2. Determinar la capacidad para asumir gastos

Para tener derecho a recibir asistencia económica para estudiantes, debe cumplir con los siguientes requisitos:

- Tener necesidad económica.
- Tener un diploma de escuela secundaria o un Certificado de Formación Equivalente General (GED).
- Tener un número de Seguro Social válido.
- Estar inscrito en un programa elegible conducente a la obtención de un título universitario asociado (2 años) o de grado (4 años) o preparado.
- Ser ciudadano de EE.UU. o un ciudadano no elegible.
- Mantener un programa académico satisfactorio (SAP) mientras asiste a la universidad.

Paso 3. Completar la FAFSA

Todos los estudiantes que buscan obtener asistencia económica deben completar la FAFSA (Solicitud Gratuita de Ayuda Federal para Estudiantes). La mayoría de los programas estatales y federales y muchos programas universitarios utilizan la información contenida a través de este formulario. Tu Ayuda Familiar Prevista (EFC) ofrecida se genera con la información que suministras en la FAFSA.

Paso 4. Preparate para pagar

Tu EFC refleja el monto que se espera que tu familia aporte para tu educación, sobre la base de los ingresos, los activos netos y el número familiares, el tamaño de la familia y la cantidad de integrantes que asisten en la universidad. Para determinar tu necesidad económica, una vez que sumaste la otra del EFC del Costo de Estudiar (COA) de esa institución.

- No solicitaría con la suficiente anticipación
- No leer las instrucciones
- No completar las solicitudes en su totalidad

Hello

Our Father, which art in heaven,
hallowed be thy name,
thy kingdom come
thy will be done
on earth as it is in heaven
Give us this day our daily bread
And forgive us our trespasses
as we forgive them that trespass against us
And lead us not into temptation
but deliver us from evil
[For thine is the kingdom,

TABLE 2
Comparison of the Segmentation Errors of Our Method with Those Obtained from the Continuous Relaxation and Rounding Based Methods

	$\lambda_{\text{TV}}=1$				$\lambda_{\text{TV}}=5$
	Our Method		LR		Our Method		LR
	ER[%]	Time(s)	ER[%]	Time(s)	ER[%]	Time(s)	ER[%]	Time(s)
Sa	2.05	0.85	8.12	367	3.34	0.69	8.54	4.69
Mo	4.79	0.68	9.99	25.7	6.01	1.46	9.67	25.8
Ve	2.42	2.37	3.31	113	3.26	2.67	4.90	50.7
St-Mo	3.38	5.46	4.99	527	4.59	387	6.84	88.6
St-Ve	3.20	2.85	3.40	64.9	3.66	3.15	4.77	27.4
Mo-Ve	2.51	2.27	3.06	62	3.12	1.87	3.98	99.4

The average figure costs for the experiment runs. 15 1 and 5 percent. The percentage errors in averaged over six images of size 321 × 481. Bold numbers for best error and time in each row.

Fig. 4. Examples of segmentations computed by our OR and our method. The LR results for each class are not shown here. The size of the image is 321 × 321.

Recall that our method runs by calling the oracle and solving the LP in (12) at each iteration. Since we consider the pixel grid graph, the oracle call, which involves minimizing a submodular pseudo-boolean function in using the graph cut algorithm, takes very little time. The number of variables used in the LP in (12) for our approach is small. Furthermore, for all constraint combinations in Table 2, the final number of active cuts does not exceed 10 (average 27 out of 1176 making the number of constraints of the LP small. The small size of the LP enables our method to run much faster than LR, which has to solve relative y large max programming problems.

The results of our experiments comparing the computational complexity of the three methods (ours, LR, QR) are shown in Fig. 5. We used four 1 0 0 (24 images, and each image was scaled down to eight small images of size $\frac{1}{2} \times \frac{1}{2}$, $\frac{1}{4} \times \frac{1}{4}$, $\frac{1}{8} \times \frac{1}{8}$, $\frac{1}{16} \times \frac{1}{16}$. Each dot in the plot denotes the average running time of the specified method over four images having the same size specified on the x axis value. It can be seen that our method is significantly faster than the state-of-the-art LR and QR based approaches. Fig. 5 shows segmentation results yielded by our method for four original images of size 1 214 1 124.

Table 3 shows how solutions by the three methods mainly given in section 6. Here we used two measures FR_{ub} and ER_{ub}. FR_{ub} denotes the percentage of a constraints that are unsatisfied. For instance, if the size and variance constraints are considered and one of them is not satisfied then FR_{ub} is restored to 0 0 FR_{ub} represents the deviation of the computed values from the inequality gap, thus providing a measure of the degree of satisfaction. For instance, let the inequality gap for Scribe is 0 and the size of a computed solution be . ER_{ub} is then counted by using for 0 / (n + 0/5) If 0 is 0 and counted by if n + 0 0. We observed that solutions computed by these methods satisfy the constraints or are very close to the constraints gap in general.

Fig. 8. Examples of segmentations by our method. Each original image has a size of 1 0 0 × 1 0 0.

7 Discussion and Conclusions

We have proposed a novel approach to constrained energy minimization. Our method is efficient and can handle a very large class of constraints including those that enforce soft under statistics, which cannot be achieved by using previously proposed methods since they usually requires the convexity of the problem [16] [18] [28]. To handle such general under constraints, the auxiliary length constraint in our paper, we use a restricted search region in which the dual is computable. In our cases, the dual maximum is always found in that restricted search region which means that it does not affect the accuracy of our method. Although our approach can be used with various submodular based methods [14] [26], it would require repeated solutions of the related problem to find

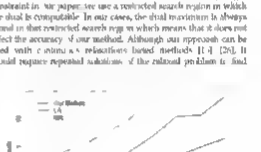

Fig. 5. Comparison of scalability between our method and two relaxation based methods.

External Serial Modems

Almost without exception external serial faxmodems will work with HylaFAX. External Modems are nice because they generally have some type of display which indicates activity. This can be useful when troubleshooting. External modems use external power sources and cabling so it is important that they be located where they are not likely to be bumped or jostled. Because the modem can be power-cycled independently there is some risk of the modem "losing" its initialization and staying uninitialized if care is not taken to address that scenario (usually by "writing" the initialized state to be used by default after a reset). However, this also can be useful in that a hung modem may be power-cycled without rebooting the server. Unless you are using external modems on a multiport serial card (you're using the system board's built-in serial ports), and because HylaFAX's faxgetty continually accesses the modem (unable to share the IRQ) you are generally limited to a combination of only two external serial or internal ISA faxmodems.

Internal ISA Hardware (Jumpered or PnP) Modems

As with external serial modems, internal ISA hardware faxmodems work with HylaFAX almost without exception. There need be no fear of power or data cables being jostled with internal modems, but there are no lighted displays. Further, and power-cycling a hung one requires a system reboot. Because non-PnP hardware ISA modems use the same memory addresses and IRQs as external serial modems, the same limitation to only two applies. However, if your system supports Plug-n-Play, then ISA hardware PnP faxmodems will likely work as well, and these PnP modems may provide a means to go beyond that limitation. Be cautious when purchasing a new ISA modem since many new ISA modems are Windows-software-driven and do not have a hardware serial controller. Consequently it may not be able to be "spoken" to as noted above. US Robotics/3Com ISA Winmodems are a good example of what not to buy.

This classic 3-layer cake features a fluffy filling between layers of tender white cake and a rich cream cheese frosting.

my recipes

Yield: Makes 12 servings

Ingredients

1 cup butter softened
2 cups sugar
4 large eggs separated
3 cups all purpose flour
1 tablespoon baking powder
1 cup milk
1 teaspoon vanilla extract
1 cup flaked coconut
Cream Cheese Frosting
2 cups sweetened flaked coconut
Garnishes fresh rosemary sprigs gumdrops

Preparation

1. Beat butter at medium speed with an electric mixer until fluffy, gradually add sugar, beating well. Add egg yolks, 1 at a time, beating until blended after each addition.

2. Combine flour and baking powder; add to butter mixture alternately with milk, beginning and ending with flour mixture. Beat at low speed until blended after each addition. Stir in vanilla.

3. Beat egg whites at high speed with electric mixer until stiff peaks form; fold one-third of egg whites into batter. Gently fold in remaining egg whites just until blended. Spoon batter into 3 greased and floured 9-inch round cake pans.

4. Bake at 350° for 18 to 20 minutes or until wooden pick inserted in center comes out clean. Cool in pans on wire racks 10 minutes; remove from pans, and cool completely on wire racks.

5. Spread Lemon Filling between layers. Spread Cream Cheese Frosting on top and sides of cake. Sprinkle top and sides with coconut. Garnish, if desired.

1. In Shakespeare's time, mattresses were secured on bed frames by ropes. When you pulled on the ropes the mattress tightened making the bed firmer to sleep on. Hence the phrase "goodnight sleep tight"

2. It was the accepted practice in Babylon 4,000 years ago that for a month after the wedding, the bride's father would supply his son-in-law with all the mead he could drink. Mead is a honey beer and because their calendar was lunar based, this period was called the honey month or what we know today as the honeymoon.

3. In English pubs, ale is ordered by pints and quarts. So in old England, when customers got unruly the bartender would yell at them mind their own pints and quarts and settle down. It is where we get the phrase "mind your P's and Q's"

4. Many years ago in England, pub frequenters had a whistle baked into the rim or handle of their ceramic cups. When they needed a refill they used the whistle to get some service. "Wet your whistle" is the phrase inspired by this practice

WARM-UP TIME:
Brainetics Number Fun

Math can be fun...really! In this chapter, you'll begin to discover just how much. You'll see how to create "magic squares," learn some cool calendar tricks that will amaze your friends and master a fun card game that uses simple addition to perform a magical trick. All this number fun will actually help you learn how to focus and concentrate—which is an important first step in mastering Brainetics.

Counting from the Middle Ages

In theory, you can create a magic square of any size, from four-up-four-across to four-billion-up-four-billion-across.

The "magic" comes from all the numbers adding up to the same total.

This is also known as a mathematical constant.

Magic Squares

Magic squares have been around a long, long time. According to an ancient Chinese legend, a turtle emerged from the Lo Shu River with a mysterious square of number symbols inscribed on its shell. Every row, column, and diagonal "magically" added up to fifteen—a pattern thought to have mystical powers. Even in the Middle East and Africa, magic squares were inscribed on medallions to guard against evil. Today we know that magic squares aren't really magic...but they can help us understand certain properties of numbers and number patterns.

Setting up your USB Mini modem for faxing in Mac OS X v10.6 or later, including v10.8 (Mountain Lion)

If you have not done so, connect the modem to your computer

1. Connect the cable end of the modem to a USB port on the back or side of your computer (Note: Do not connect the modem to a USB port on a keyboard.)
2. Connect the phone jack on the modem to the supplied phone cord, and plug the other end of the cord into the wall telephone jack.

Add the modem as a fax/printer device

Note: The following steps assume you will be using Mac OS X's built-in fax capability. If you have third party fax software such as PageSender, please refer to that software's documentation or online help for information on fax setting up your computer for faxing.

1. From the Apple menu, select System Preferences, and then click Print & Scan (or Print & Fax). (If you see a dialog box saying that a new interface or port has been detected, click Open Network Preferences, and then click Apply.)
2. The Print & Scan (or Print & Fax) preferences open. Click the + (Add) button on the left pane of the window. If prompted, choose Add Other Printer or Scanner.

No printers are available.
Click Add (+) to set up a printer.
Default printer:
Last Printer Used
Default paper size:
US Letter
Click the lock to prevent further changes.

3. In the resulting Add (or Add Printer) window, click the Fax icon.
4. Ensure USB Modem is selected, and then click Add.

HELLO #2

It is important that you clients receive proper TCP/IP settings so that your network clients can find the domain controllers. If you are using a router's DHCP service then you are not receiving the proper DNS configuration.

So, when you setup your DHCP server, the Default Gateway should be that of your router and the DNS server should be your local domain controller. When this is properly configured your clients will use your domain controller as the primary DNS server.

On your DNS server configure your ISP's DNS servers as forwards for Internet name resolution. Also, don't forget to assign your server with static IP configuration, and yes, assign the DNS server setting to that of the local host. Now you should be good to go. This is why it is important to run your own DHCP. If not, you can always assign static TCP/IP settings.

In reading your explanation, it appears to me that your errors are the result of DNS/network issues.

Once you have forwarded port 80 at the router from the external to the internal IP address hosting the IIS server you should have a web presence. Post back if you need more help.

Primary DNS: 68.94.156.1
Secondary DNS: 68.94.157.1

John Mackey, CEO of Whole Foods Market
Whole Foods Market Inc.
11920 Domain Drive
Austin, Texas 78758

Dear Mr. Mackey:

We at the Coalition Against Mass Incarceration (CAMI) understand that you are buying artisanal cheeses, farm-raised Tilapia, and produce, all produced by inmates in upstate Pennsylvania who are being paid only $.74/day. This is an example of benefitting from Mass Incarceration.

To balance out monies you are saving in labor costs, and aid those who have spent many years imprisoned, often unfairly, we urge you to develop a transitional fund and employment for those who have served their prison time and are now returning to the community (often with nothing more than a token and one set of clothing to their name).

In more detail:

- Step 1: Set aside the difference between what you paid inmates to raise fish and grow foods and what you normally pay employees for similar work, as transitional funds for those returning to the community after completing their sentences. Set this money aside so that these former inmates/now returning citizens can reach out to you for a longer lasting transportation "transpass", a bit of additional clothing, housing, and some food – so that these returning citizens have some support as they search for a job, and get back on their feet.
- Step 2: Establish relationships with Returning Citizen organizations, such as The Center for Returning Citizens, so that when formerly incarcerated persons return to their communities they have potential jobs, at a living wage, waiting for them.

We are writing as concerned customers of yours who hope to feel we can continue shopping with you.

Please let us know as you progress in these ventures.

Sincerely,

The Cowboy Way

A cowboy, who just moved to Wyoming from Texas, walks into a bar and orders three mugs of beer. He sits in the back of the room, drinking a sip out of each one in turn.

When he finishes them, he goes back to the bar and orders three more.

The bartender approaches and tells the cowboy, "You know, a mug goes flat after I draw it. It would taste better if you bought one at a time."

The cowboy replies, "Well, you see, I have two brothers. One is in Arizona, the other is in Colorado. When we all left our home in Texas, we promised we'd drink this way to remember the days when we drank together. So I'm drinking one beer for each of my brothers and one for myself."

The bartender admits that this is a nice custom, and leaves it there.

The cowboy becomes a regular in the bar, and always drinks the same way. He order three mugs and drinks them in turn.

One day, he comes in and only order two mugs. All the regulars take notice and fall silent.

When he comes back to the bar for the second round, the bartender says, "I don't want to intrude on your grief, but I wanted to offer my condolences on your loss."

The cowboy looks quite puzzled for a moment, then a light dawns in his eyes and he laughs.

"Oh, no, everybody's just fine," he says. "It's just that my wife and I have joined the Baptist Church and I've had to quit drinking."

"Hasn't affected my brothers though."

Cleaning Sheet

Maintaining your print head for better print quality

Introduction

You may find burned glaze when you observe the surface of print head. Accumulated foreign material on the print head makes this problem and you should remove this before starting your next print job.

Please do not attempt to scratch away burned material on the print head, which causes severe damage to the print head. When you observe such materials on the print head, the cleaning sheet should be used.

Procedures

Step 1 Power off the printer

Step 2 Open the print head

Step 3 Remove label ing, and thermal transfer ribbon from the print head area.

Step 4 Place the cleaning sheet with "dull" side up between the print head and platen roller with approx. 1 inch extending beyond the print head

Step 5 Close the print head

Step 6 Firmly grasp the exposed cleaning sheet with both hands and gently pull it (see Fig 1) with steady force

Step 7 Open the print head and remove the sheet from the printer

Step 8 Use SATO thermal printer cleaning kit to remove All remaining materials on the print head and platen roller (if necessary)

Step 9 Reload the media you are going to use or the media you removed at the step 3

Fig1.How to use the cleaning sheet (refer to Step 6)

※ Please note the picture in the Fig 1 is to give an example and may not represent the printer you use.

An Analysis of the Impact of CareCredit® on Patients' Use of Dental Services

Executive Summary

Having a CareCredit patient financing option available can help dental practices attract new patients and increase the number of visits and services accepted by existing patients. Equally important, households that opened a CareCredit account, the increased level of dental services was sustained. The intervention was validated and approved by the Academy of Dental CPAs (www.ADCPA.org) was obtained from analysis of data of more than 1 million households across a 6-year period, examining how dental patients in the U.S. use dental services over time.

Key Findings

In the year in which the account is opened CareCredit account holding households

- Make 66% more dental visits
- Accept 282% more dental services (as measured in dollar value)

In the four years after the account is opened CareCredit account holding households on average

- Make 25% more dental visits per year
- Accepted 44% more dental services per year

Number of Visits per Household	+62%	+25%
Amount of Dental Services Accepted	+282%	+44%

Specifically, in a certain year, a group of 1,000 households that opened a CareCredit account would potentially make 2,300 visits on average and spend approximately $2.3 million more in that year than a group of 1,000 non-account holding households. Furthermore, in any given year afterward, the same group of CareCredit account holders would make 900 more visits and spend $382,000 more than 1,000 of their non-account holding counterparts.

These findings help demonstrate how CareCredit can help dental practices grow by driving greater patient production and more appointments scheduled.

5. I have a secret message of incredible importance that I would like to communicate to you. The message is a 72-byte string of characters which are mapped to numbers using the standard ASCII encoding ('a'=97, 'b'=98, etc). Given the vectors of numbers $\boldsymbol{x}$ you can view the message in MATLAB using char(round(x))'

Unfortunately we have adversaries impeding our ability communicate. Those adversaries can change up to one out of every ten numbers I send to you, these changes are arbitrary and the receiver (you) has no knowledge of where they might take place. As I really need you to read all 72 bytes, even having as few as 8 or 9 of them altered is unacceptable.

To protect against this attack, we add redundancy to the message by embedding it into a higher dimensional space. Specifically, instead of sending $\boldsymbol{x}_0 \in \mathbb{R}^{72}$, I will send $\boldsymbol{y} \in \mathbb{R}^{512}$ where $\boldsymbol{y} = \boldsymbol{A}\boldsymbol{x}_0$ and $\boldsymbol{A}$ is a 512×72 matrix. You observe

$$\boldsymbol{y} = \boldsymbol{A}\boldsymbol{x}_0 + \boldsymbol{e}$$

where $\boldsymbol{e} \in \mathbb{R}^{512}$ can have up to 51 non-zero entries. That is, the error between what we have ($\boldsymbol{y}$) and what we want ($\boldsymbol{A}\boldsymbol{x}_0$ — the embedded message) is sparse. We have seen that ℓ_1 norm approximation is likely to produce sparse errors. So you will attempt to recover the message by solving

$$\min_{\boldsymbol{x}} \|\boldsymbol{y} - \boldsymbol{A}\boldsymbol{x}\|_1$$

(a) The file SecretMessage.mat contains a (corrupted) transmission $\boldsymbol{y}$ and the matrix $\boldsymbol{A}$ I used to encode the message. Try to decode the message using least-squares — what do you get?

(b) Decode the message using the file l1approx.m that I have provided.

(c) Play around with this encoding/decoding scheme with this particular choice of $\boldsymbol{A}$. Make up some 72-byte messages and encode them, for example:

msgstr = 'This is my message blah blah blah blah blah blah'
x0 = double(msgstr)';
y0 = A*x0;

then choose some entries to change and change them to random numbers:

q = randperm(512);
S = 50  % number of entries to alter
T = sort(q(1:S))  % indexes of entries to alter
e = zeros(512,1);
e(T) = 25*randn(S,1); % random, sparse error
y = y0 + e;

About how many errors can this encoding $\boldsymbol{A}$ correct on average? (Just do a lot of experiments for different values of S to figure this out.)

6. (a) Let $a, b, c \in \mathbb{R}$ be fixed and consider the following functional on $\mathbb{R}^2$

$$\phi(\boldsymbol{x}) = -\log(-ax_1 - bx_2 - c)$$

Deductions and Adjustments Worksheet

Note. Use this worksheet only if you plan to itemize deductions or claim certain credits or adjustments to income.

1 Enter estimate of your itemized deductions. These may include qualifying home mortgage interest, charitable contributions, state and local taxes, medical expenses in excess of 7.5% of your AGI, and miscellaneous deductions. But don't include any deductions for qualified business income, such as 20% of your share of certain pass-through entity income. If you're married filing jointly and expect this amount to be more than $24,800 (6.5% of the standard deduction for a married couple filing jointly), enter the amount from line 1 of the Deductions Worksheet in Pub. 505. If you're single and expect this amount to be more than $12,400 (6.5% of the standard deduction for a single person), enter the amount from line 1 of the Deductions Worksheet in Pub. 505. If you're married filing separately and expect this amount to be more than $12,400 (6.5% of the standard deduction for a married person filing separately), enter the amount from line 1 of the Deductions Worksheet in Pub. 505. Otherwise, enter -0-	1	$
2	Enter $24,800 for married filing jointly or qualifying surviving spouse $18,650 for head of household $12,400 if single or married filing separately	2	$
3	Subtract line 2 from line 1. If zero or less, enter -0-	3	$
4	If you're filing Form 2106 or 2106-EZ, enter your estimated employee business expenses reduced by 2% of your AGI	4	$
5	Add lines 3 and 4 and enter the total. If you're also claiming any amount on page 1 of this worksheet, complete the Credits Worksheet on page 3 before you continue. Otherwise, skip to line 6	5	$
6	Enter an estimate of your 2018 nonwage income (such as dividends or interest)	6	$
7	Subtract line 6 from line 5. If zero or less, enter -0-	7	$
8	Divide the amount on line 7 by $3,700 and round it down to the nearest whole number	8
9	Enter the number from the Personal Allowances Worksheet, line H, page 1	9
10	Add lines 8 and 9 and enter the total here. If you plan to use the Two-Earners/Multiple Jobs Worksheet, also enter this total on line 1 below. Otherwise, stop here and enter this total on Form W-4, line 5, page 1	10

Two-Earners/Multiple Jobs Worksheet (See Two earners or multiple jobs on page 1.)

Note. Use this worksheet only if the instructions under line H 1 or 2 direct you to.

1	Enter the number from line 10 of this worksheet or from line 10 of the Deductions and Adjustments Worksheet	1
2	Find the number in Table 1 below that applies to the LOWEST paying job and enter it here. However, if you're married filing jointly and wages from the highest paying job are $75,000 or less, do not enter more than -0-	2
3	If line 1 is more than or equal to line 2, subtract line 2 from line 1. Enter the result here (if zero, enter -0-) and skip to line 5. If line 1 is less than line 2, enter -0-	3

Note. If line 1 is less than line 2, you'll owe Form W-4, line 6, page 1. Complete lines 4 through 6 below to determine the additional withholding amount necessary to avoid a year-end tax bill.

4	Enter the number from line 2 of this worksheet	4
5	Enter the number from line 1 of this worksheet	5
6	Subtract line 5 from line 4	6
7	Find the amount in Table 2 below that applies to the HIGHEST paying job and enter it here	7	$
8	Multiply line 7 by line 6 and enter the result here. This is the additional annual withholding needed	8	$
9	Divide line 8 by the number of pay periods remaining in 2019. For example, divide by 20 if you're paid every two weeks and you complete this form on a date in January shown on the 2019 payroll schedule. If you're paid monthly, enter 1. These are the amounts to be withheld from each paycheck	9	$

GIVE THE PEOPLE WHAT THEY WANT

Customers keep returning to tried-and-true franchises that offer affordable quality

No matter the prognosis for the recession and recovery, one thing that has remained steady is franchising's contribution to the economy. As the U.S. Census Bureau's last count, franchised businesses provided more than 9.1 million jobs and added more than $469 billion of gross domestic product to the U.S. economy. And despite lending defaults, franchisors are still seeing strong growth because of their tried-and-true systems. Entrepreneur's 33rd Annual Franchise 500™ reveals which businesses are thriving and what concepts are still developing. In the pages that follow, we'll break down financing, Franchise Disclosure Documents, trends and more, and we'll profile some of the most successful players in the franchising world.

This year's Franchise 500™ has little in the way of shake-ups or surprises. Last year's No. 1 held its spot, and strong players from years past rose again to rejoin the top 10. Why all the familiar faces? As the economy has changed, so have consumers' needs. Shoppers demand quick and affordable—but high-quality—products and services, whether it's travel accommodations, tax preparation or simply a good cup of coffee. With sound franchise models already in place, those businesses that stayed lean after the downturn hit are well-positioned to capitalize on the shifting climate by listening to their customers and franchisees—and giving them what they want. As you go through the list, keep that in mind. There's nothing wrong with familiarity, in fact, in shaky times, it can be downright comforting. MICHELLE JURGEN

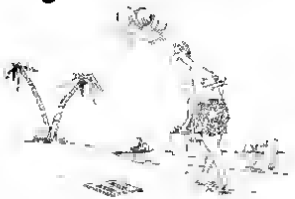
The Declaration of Independence

Almost everyone knows that Thomas Jefferson wrote the Declaration of Independence. However did you know that, like most people who write something, he wrote at least one rough draft? This is an example of what's left of the earliest known draft of the Declaration. You can see that Jefferson heavily edited his first draft before he prepared a clean or "fair" copy that became the basis of the "original rough draught." The other representatives from the 13 colonies selected Jefferson to write the Declaration because they all agreed he was the best writer. Do you know any of the words of the Declaration of Independence by heart?

Time to recharge my batteries!



See you after vacation.

What's in your files?

Employee files are a depository of many different documents, each with specific information, required by certain laws, and with different retention periods. The personnel file is the place where many records are customarily kept.

To see what should be in an employee file (and what should not), refer to the following table. The list is not all inclusive, but represents some of the more common file documents required by federal laws. The retention period listed are the minimum. Many employers retain them for longer periods.

Record	Retention	Location	Law	Regulation	Other
Job applications, resumes	1 year	Personnel file	Title VII, ADA	29 CFR 1602.14	If SSN is included, keep it secure
Medical information (i.e. accommodation requests, injury reports)	1 year (ADA), duration of employment +30 years (OSHA), 6 years (HIPAA)	Separate from personnel file	ADA, OSHA, HIPAA	29 CFR 1630.14, 1910.1020 45 CFR Part 164 Subpart E	Must remain confidential and secure

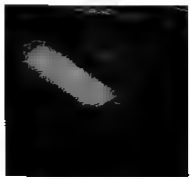
Nativity Alumni Beer Tasting -- June 9, 2011

Original Sin
Hard Cider
New York, NY
6% ABV

The all-natural ingredients in Original Sin make all the difference. Without any artificial flavors or colors, the qualities of the apple are able to speak for themselves. Fermented with two types of champagne yeast, the result is a crisp, clean, dry and refreshing hard cider.

Ossau Iraty
France

Ossau Iraty is a classic sheep's milk cheese made in the French Pyrénées. Ossau Iraty is made with the milk of the Manech and Basco-Bearnaise ewes. Ossau is aged for a minimum of ninety days until its paste has turned a luscious ivory; its fragrance is reminiscent of toasted hazelnuts, and its taste encapsulates the sweet, buttery flavors that a great sheep's milk cheese can deliver.



St Louis
Framboise Raspberry Lambic
Belgium
4.5% ABV

A traditional Gueuze Lambic made with 25 per cent of fresh raspberry juice and natural sugar. A clear, dark red beer is obtained with a pink head. With an alcohol content of only 2.8 per cent and its fruity character, this is a beer which is a tempting tipple when drunk young or old.

RE: Carolyn Reck

Dear Bruce

Your patient Carolyn Reck was seen in our office on January 6 2004 for her annual exam

She has had a small amount of decline but I believe that it's only an increase in the level of inflammation and should resolve with time

I'll check her again in six months to be sure she's stable

We appreciate the opportunity to share in the care of your patient

Sincerely

Just the fax, Ma'am.

Just the fax.

This is a test document to show what can be "hidden" inside of a word document. This hidden information should be cleaned out of any word document you are sending electronically to vendors. All of this information is saved with the document and sent to everyone. Just turning it off or hiding it, doesn't delete it.

1 Before sending any document check to make sure there is no hidden text.

In the TOOLS menu select TRACK CHANGES >HIGHLIGHT CHANGES. Try turning it off and on and see what a difference it makes to this sentence

Word Allows many people to edit a document and records all of the changes made during the process. These changes Stay in the document until someone ACCEPTS or REJECTS the changes

2 In the Tools menu select OPTIONS > VIEW and check the format box which says VIEW HIDDEN TEXT

Can you see the hidden sentence here?

Word allows you to include "HIDDEN" text in a document which might include comments, instructions, notes and alternate text. The Hidden text doesn't print or show on the screen, but is always kept with the document and can be read by anyone who receives the electronic version Delete hidden Text before sending electronic documents!

I suggest you leave both of the options in items 1 & 2 turned on all the time so you can see what is happening in your document. Erase and remove the hidden text before sending the document. The next item you can't see, but it is still there

3 MAKE SURE the TOOLS >OPTIONS >SAVE "Enable Fast Save" button is turned OFF When Fast Save is turned on, Word will save marked up changes, formatting changes and all sort of other information along with the document. Rather than take the extra time to erase the text you change, when using FAST SAVE Word just marks the text for deletion and leaves it in the document. Turn FAST SAVE OFF!

This extra text doesn t show on the screen, but is still there and can be seen by anyone who opens up the word document using NOTEPAD You can do test this by saving this file to your hard drive and closing WORD Then open Accessories > NOTEPAD (not WORDPAD) and go find the file and open it. See all of the text that that was along You can t see them all in Word, but they are still there.

4 Open the File menu and look at the DOCUMENT PROPERTIES. Check the tabs that show statistics and custom information All of the information in the various tabs is recorded and stays in the document. It might show a history that you want to avoid telling the world about. To fix this problem, copy your document to a new document and delete personal information. Microsoft also has a tool that can be used in Office documents to clean up personal information

FEDERAL NOTICES

IMPORTANT INFORMATION ABOUT PROCEDURES FOR OPENING A NEW ACCOUNT If applicable to your credit transaction, to help the government fight the funding of terrorism and money laundering activities, federal law requires financial institutions to obtain, verify and record information that identifies each person who opens an account. What this means for you: When you open an account, you will be asked for your name, address, date of birth and other information to identify you. You may also be asked to see your driver's license or other identifying documents.

STATE NOTICES

California Residents: An applicant, if married may apply for a separate account.

Maine and Tennessee Residents: You must have physical damage insurance covering loss or damage to the vehicle for the term of the contract. For a copy you must also have the liability insurance as described in the lease. You may purchase required insurance through any insurance agent or broker and from any insurance company that is reasonably acceptable to us. You are not required to deal with any of our affiliates when accessing an agent, broker or insurer. Your choice of a particular insurance agent, broker or insurer will not affect our credit decision as long as the insurance provides adequate coverage with an insurer who meets our reasonable requirements.

New Hampshire Residents. If you are applying for a balloon payment contract, you are entitled, if you ask, to receive a written estimate of the monthly payment amount for refinancing the balloon payment in accord with the creditor's existing refinance programs. You would be entitled to receive the estimate before you enter into a balloon payment contract. A balloon contract is an installment sales contract with a final scheduled payment that is at least twice the version of one of the earlier scheduled equal periodic installment payments.

New York Residents. In connection with your application for credit, a consumer report may be obtained from a consumer reporting agency (credit bureau). If credit is extended, the party or parties extending credit or holding such credit may order additional consumer reports in connection with any update, renewal or extension of the credit if you ask, you will be told whether a consumer report was requested and, if so, the name and address of any consumer reporting agency (credit bureau) from which such report was obtained.

Ohio Residents. Ohio laws against discrimination require that all creditors make credit equally available to all creditworthy customers and that credit reporting agencies maintain separate credit histories on each individual upon request. The Ohio Civil Rights Commission administers compliance with this law.

Rhode Island Residents: Consumer reports may be requested in connection with this application. Buyer has the right of free choice in selecting an institution to provide insurance required in connection with this documents subject to our reasonable approval in accordance with applicable law.

Vermont Residents You authorize us and any financial institution with whom this credit application is shared, and each of their respective employees or agents, to obtain and verify information about you (including one or more credit reports, information about your employment and banking and credit relationships) that they may deem necessary or appropriate in evaluating your credit application. If your credit application is approved and credit is granted, we also authorize the parties granting credit or holding your account, and their respective employees and agents, to obtain additional credit reports and other information about you in connection with reviewing the account, increasing the available credit on the account (if applicable), taking collection on the account, or for any other legitimate purpose.

Married Wisconsin Residents No provision of any marital property agreement, any unilateral statement under Wis. Stat. § 766.58 or any court decree under § 766.70 applied to marital property adversely affects our interest unless you furnish a copy of the agreement, statement, or court decree or we have actual knowledge of such adverse provision before credit is granted. If you are making this credit application individually and not jointly with your spouse, complete Section A about yourself and Section B about your non-applicant spouse. Your non-applicant spouse should not sign the credit application if you are applying for individual credit.

Comment.

The Hologic-Gen-Probe APTIMA Combo 2 Assay is a target amplification nucleic acid probe test that utilizes target capture for the in vitro qualitative detection and differentiation of ribosomal RNA (rRNA) from Chlamydia trachomatis and/or Neisseria gonorrhoeae in clinician-collected endocervical, vaginal, and male urethral swab specimens, and male urine specimens. The assay may be used to test specimens from symptomatic and asymptomatic individuals to aid in the diagnosis of gonococcal and/or chlamydial urogenital disease. A negative result does not preclude the presence of a C. trachomatis or N. gonorrhoeae infection because results are dependent on adequate specimen collection, absence of inhibitors, and sufficient rRNA to be detected.
The APTIMA Combo 2 Assay is not intended for the evaluation of suspected sexual abuse or for other medico-legal indications. For those patients for whom a false positive result may have adverse psychosocial impact, the CDC recommends retesting by a method using an alternate technology.

IMPORTANT: PLEASE READ THIS END USER LICENSE AGREEMENT ("AGREEMENT") CAREFULLY. IT IS THE LEGAL AGREEMENT BETWEEN YOU (EITHER THE INDIVIDUAL PURCHASER OR, IF PURCHASED OR ACQUIRED ON BEHALF OF AN INDIVIDUAL'S EMPLOYER, THAT EMPLOYER) AND CISCO SYSTEMS, INC. OR ITS SUBSIDIARY LICENSING THE SOFTWARE TO YOU (EITHER "CISCO" OR "LICENSOR"). BY DOWNLOADING, INSTALLING, OR USING THE SOFTWARE OR USING THE EQUIPMENT THAT CONTAINS THIS SOFTWARE, YOU ARE CONSENTING TO BE BOUND BY THIS AGREEMENT. IF YOU DO NOT AGREE TO ALL OF THE TERMS OF THIS AGREEMENT, THEN CISCO IS UNWILLING TO LICENSE THE SOFTWARE TO YOU AND (A) YOU MAY NOT DOWNLOAD, INSTALL OR USE THE SOFTWARE, AND (B) YOU MAY RETURN THE SOFTWARE (INCLUDING ANY UNOPENED CD PACKAGE AND LICENSE KEY) AND ANY ACCOMPANYING ITEMS TO THE PLACE OF PURCHASE FOR A REFUND OR CREDIT IF ANY. IF YOU DOWNLOADED THE SOFTWARE, YOU MAY CONTACT CISCO OR THE PLACE OF PURCHASE REGARDING THE RETURN PROCESS.

THE FOLLOWING TERMS GOVERN THE AGREEMENT. CERTAIN CAPITALIZED TERMS, USED IN THE AGREEMENT, ARE DEFINED IN PARAGRAPH 1 BELOW.

1. Definitions. "Software" means the Cisco computer programs and any other Cisco software, including Upgrades, Updates, and Maintenance Releases, made available to you by an Authorized Source. "Equipment" means the Cisco hardware product(s) that you purchased from Cisco or a Cisco reseller. "Authorized Source" means Cisco or a Cisco reseller. "Upgrades" means all Updates, Maintenance Releases, or other enhanced versions of the Software that you may receive from an Authorized Source after the date that you purchase the Equipment or Software, or after the date you register your Software, whichever is later. "Updates" means all updates, bug fixes, or modified versions of the Software (usually designated by a change to the number to the right of the second decimal point, e.g., Release 2.1.1) that you may receive from an Authorized Source at no additional charge (excluding shipping, handling, and applicable taxes) during the Update Term. "Maintenance Releases" means all maintenance releases of the Software (usually designated by a change to the number to the right of the first decimal point, e.g., Release 2.1) that you may receive from an Authorized Source at no additional charge (excluding shipping, handling, and applicable taxes) during the Update Term. "Update Term" means the period commencing on the date You purchase the Equipment or Software and ending on the date one year thereafter.

2. Grant of License. Subject to the payment of applicable fees and compliance with this Agreement, Cisco grants you a limited, non-exclusive and non-transferable license to use the Software (in object code form) and the documentation that may be provided to you with the Software ("Documentation"), solely for your own internal business purposes. You may make one copy of the Software to be used solely for archival purposes. Except as expressly authorized in this Agreement or otherwise in writing by Cisco, you may not: make any modifications of the Software or combine the Software with any other software; reverse engineer, decompile, decrypt, disassemble or otherwise attempt to derive the source code for the Software; sublicense, distribute or lease the Software; or use the Software in violation of applicable laws or export control rules. You acknowledge that the Software may contain encryption code or mechanisms that may restrict your ability to receive, use, export or re-export the Software or any copy or Upgrade thereof, and you shall not receive, use, export or re-export any such copy or Upgrade except in full compliance with all applicable laws and regulations. In addition, you shall not export or re-export any such copy or Upgrade (a) to any country to which the U.S. has embargoed goods at the time of export, or to any national of any such country, wherever located, who intends to transmit or transport the products back to such country; (b) to any person who you know will use the Software or any such copy or Upgrade in the design, development or production of nuclear, chemical or biological weapons; or (c) to any person or entity who you know has been or is prohibited from participating in U.S. export transactions by any federal agency of the U.S. government. You warrant and represent that neither the U.S. Commerce Department's Bureau of Industry and Security nor any other U.S. federal agency has suspended, revoked or denied your export privileges.

3. Restrictions. Unless otherwise specified in the Agreement or as specified in writing by Cisco, you may not: (a) distribute or transfer the Software or Documentation to any third party; (b) provide any third party with the results of any benchmark or comparison tests run on the Software; (c) use the Software to provide service bureau, time-sharing, hosting, or other similar services to third parties; (d) publish any results of benchmark tests run on the Software; (e) use the Software in violation of any applicable law or regulation; or (f) use the Software to operate Equipment for which the Software was not intended. You may not transfer the Software to another party except as permitted by applicable export laws; and (i) you retain no copies of the Software; (ii) the transfer includes all of the Software (including all component parts, the media and printed materials, any Upgrades, this Agreement, and, if applicable, the Certificate of Authenticity); and (iii) you first obtain the written consent of Cisco. You may not rent, lease, or sublicense the Software unless you are an Authorized Source and you comply with any additional terms that may be imposed by Cisco in writing. Unless you are a Cisco reseller and have executed a valid Cisco reseller agreement, you may not use the Software for commercial hosting services. You may not remove any proprietary notices or labels on the Software. You shall not modify the Software or incorporate any part of the Software into any other software program, unless and except to the extent authorized in writing by Cisco. You shall maintain accurate records sufficient to show compliance with the foregoing restrictions. You shall permit Cisco or its agents access to those records and facilities during your normal business hours to verify your compliance with the foregoing restrictions. You shall promptly order and pay for sufficient copies of the Software to account for all of your installations, use, and copying of the Software. If you use the Software for evaluation purposes, your use is subject to the terms of the Cisco Systems Evaluation Software License Agreement, available at www.cisco.com/go/evalsoftware, and not this Agreement.

4. Ownership. Cisco or its suppliers own all right, title and interest in and to the Software and Documentation, and all related Intellectual Property Rights. "Intellectual Property Rights" means any and all rights existing from time to time under patent law, copyright law, trade secret law, trademark law, unfair competition law and any and all other proprietary rights. Your possession, installation or use of the Software does not transfer to you any title to the Intellectual Property Rights in the Software, and you will not acquire any rights in the Software except as expressly set forth in this Agreement. All copies of the Software and Documentation made hereunder shall contain the same proprietary notices that appear on and in the Software and Documentation. You agree to protect the confidentiality of the Software. Your obligation to protect confidentiality will continue after this Agreement ends.

5. Limited Warranty. Subject to the limitations and conditions set forth herein, Cisco warrants that commencing on the date the Software is first shipped to you by an Authorized Source and continuing for a period of the longer of (a) ninety days or (b) the warranty period (if any) expressly set forth as applicable to the Equipment (the "Warranty Period"), the Software will substantially conform to the applicable Documentation. The foregoing warranty will not apply to Software that has been modified by you. Cisco's sole liability under this warranty shall be, at Cisco's option, to repair or replace the Software that does not conform to this warranty or refund to you the lesser of the amount you paid for the Software or the amount you paid for the Equipment on which the Software was installed. You must return all Software that is subject to a claim under this warranty to Cisco or to the Authorized Source from which you obtained the Software. You may not return Software without first obtaining a return material authorization from Cisco or the Authorized Source. You are responsible for complying with Cisco's or the Authorized Source's return procedures. This warranty does not apply to Software that has been (i) damaged by accident, abuse or misapplication, (ii) subjected to unusual physical or electrical stress, (iii) misused in any manner, including but not limited to use of the Software with Equipment not specified for use with the Software, (iv) used in violation of applicable law, or (v) modified in any unauthorized manner. This warranty does not apply to Software provided on an evaluation basis. Cisco does not warrant that your use of the Software will be uninterrupted or error-free, or that your use of the Software will be secure from unauthorized access. Cisco does not warrant that the Software or any equipment, system or network on which the Software is used will be free of vulnerability to intrusion or attack. Divisibility Rules!

Using the rules for dividing by 3, 4, and 5, students sort out the real kings and queens in this party of impostors!

Grouping
Individual

You'll Need
For each student:
- Divisibility Rules! (reproducible page 29)
- Pencil

DIRECTIONS

1. Tell the following story to students

   Once upon a time the King of Divisor and the Queen of Divvy Up held a masquerade party. People from both kingdoms came. The problem was, everyone came dressed as kings and queens. Who were the Divisors? Who were the Divvy Uppers? And who were the real King and Queen? You can figure it out with the clues on the Divisibility Rules! reproducible.

2. Distribute reproducible page 29 and review the directions with the class. Have them identify the Divisors and Divvy Uppers and the King and Queen.

3. When everyone has finished the activity, discuss students' findings. Make lists on the chalkboard of numbers divisible by 3 and those divisible by 4. See if students can find commonalities in the numbers in each list to generate these divisibility rules:
   - A number is divisible by 3 if the sum of its digits can be divided by 3. For example, 354 is divisible by 3 because 3 + 5 + 4 = 12, which is divisible by 3.
   - A number is divisible by 4 if the last two digits of the number can be divided by 4. For example, 724 is divisible by 4 because 24 is divisible by 4.
   - A number is divisible by 5 if the number ends in 5 or 0.

ASSESSMENT

For students having difficulty, write out the division rules and ask them to find some numbers that follow each rule. Answers: Numbers divisible by 3 (Divisors): 141, 294, 762, 138, and 2,622. Numbers divisible by 4 (Divvy Uppers): 92, 1,016, 932, 9,244, and 3,452. The real King is 370; the real Queen is 125.

EXTENSION

Duplicate the masquerade with your class. Make flash cards of numbers divisible by 3, 4, and 5. (Include only two numbers divisible by 5.) Have students randomly select one card and identify themselves as Divisors or Divvy Uppers. Who are the King and Queen?

3 Some people should not get hepatitis A vaccine or should wait.

- Anyone who has ever had a severe (life threatening) allergic reaction to a previous dose of hepatitis A vaccine should not get another dose.
- Anyone who has a severe (life threatening) allergy to any vaccine component should not get the vaccine. Tell your doctor if you have any severe allergies, including a severe allergy to latex. All hepatitis A vaccines contain alum and some hepatitis A vaccines contain 2-phenoxyethanol.
- Anyone who is moderately or severely ill at the time the shot is scheduled should probably wait until they recover. Ask your doctor. People with a mild illness can usually get the vaccine.
- Tell your doctor if you are pregnant. Because hepatitis A vaccine is inactivated (killed), the risk to a pregnant woman or her unborn baby is believed to be very low. But your doctor can weigh any theoretical risk from the vaccine against the need for protection.

4 What are the risks from hepatitis A vaccine?

A vaccine, like any medicine, could possibly cause serious problems, such as severe allergic reactions. The risk of hepatitis A vaccine causing serious harm, or death, is extremely small.

Getting hepatitis A vaccine is much safer than getting the disease.

Mild problems

- soreness where the shot was given (about 1 out of 2 adults, and up to 1 out of 6 children)
- headache (about 1 out of 6 adults and 1 out of 25 children)
- loss of appetite (about 1 out of 12 children)
- tiredness (about 1 out of 14 adults)

If these problems occur, they usually last 1 or 2 days.

Severe problems

- serious allergic reaction, within a few minutes to a few hours after the shot (very rare)

5 What if there is a moderate or severe reaction?

What should I look for?

- Any unusual condition, such as a high fever or unusual behavior. Signs of a serious allergic reaction can include difficulty breathing, hoarseness or wheezing, hives, paleness, weakness, a fast heart beat or dizziness.

What should I do?

- Call a doctor or get the person to a doctor right away.
- Tell your doctor what happened, the date and time it happened, and when the vaccination was given.
- Ask your doctor, nurse, or health department to report the reaction by filing a Vaccine Adverse Event Reporting System (VAERS) form. Or you can file this report through the VAERS web site at www.vaers.hhs.gov or by calling 1-800-822-7967.

VAERS does not provide medical advice.

Presence of one or more of the following may be an indication for further investigation: hemoglobin <10 g/dL, hemoglobin >18 g/dL, MCV >100 fL, MCV <80 fL, MCHC >37%, WBC <2.5 thou/mm^3, WBC <4,000/mm^3, presence of sickle cells, schistocytes, Pappenheimer bodies, Howell-Jolly bodies, toxic granulations, helmet cells, fragmented RBCs, target cells, spherocytes, macrocytes, stomatocytes, red blood cells, absence of cell polarization, nucleated red blood cells in cultured healthy newborn, blood parasites (malaria, Babesia organisms, or the possibility of parasitic organisms), hypersegmented neutrophils, cytoplasmic vacuoles, hypersegmented neutrophils (Pelger-Huët anomaly or pseudo-Pelger-Huët [pince-nez] cells), mononuclear cells in which apparent nucleoli are present (not blast-like cells), presence of metamyelocytes, myelocytes, promyelocytes, neutrophilic precursors, presence of plasma cells, reactive atypical lymphocytes, significant increase or decrease in platelets or platelet clumps.

A semi-partial differential report does not include IG% and IG absolute counts. IG (immature granulocytes) are not counted as lymphocytes and myelocytes, but do not include bands or blast cells.[2] Promyelocytes and blasts are counted by peroxidase or other stains, if left shift. An elevated percentage of IG has not been found to be clinically significant as a sole clinical predictor of disease. IGs are also found with infections, injuries of inflammatory disorders, cytokine therapy, metabolic hydrolysis, tissue damage, systemic metabolic abnormalities, myeloproliferative neoplasms, and with the use of certain medications such as steroids.[1]

Pregnancy is related to many changes in blood values. Increased neutrophil and granulocytes without an increase in total white blood cell count. There is a significant increase of the antibacterial cytokine serum amyloid A in blood serum of normal pregnancy, which is associated with an increase in immature cells (due to the left shift) in erythropoietic and granulocytic lineages. A possible physiologic explanation for the appearance of immature granulocytes in this group and blood of pregnant women increased during pregnancy. There is a rise in granulocytes and glycogen content in fully splenectomized women in the second trimester of pregnancy. There is a fall in the first month then a decrease in the eighth month and a subsequent rise in the ninth month.[1]

6) Name and describe 5 steps of Cog's Ladder of team evolution

The Cogs' Ladder was developed by Gloover Charles in 1972, and it represents a model for group growth. It consists of five steps that are necessary for groups to work effectively. Groups can only move forward after completing the current step.

5 steps are
1) Polite
2) Why we are here
3) Bid for Power
4) Constructive
5) Esprit

Groups can only move forward after completing the current step.

In the first polite stage, group members are getting to know each other. This is an introductory phase where members strive to get acquainted or reacquainted with one another. During this phase, the basis for the group structure is established and is characterized by polite social interaction. All ideas are sought, communication is avoided and all members limit self-disclosure. Judgements of other members are formed, and this sets the tone for the rest of the group's time. All members participate in this stage but unevenly

Second stage is 'Why we are here' stage. Group members want to know why they have been called together and what are group's goals and objectives. The specific agenda for each planning session will be communicated by the moderator or leader. In this phase individual need for approval begins to diminish, as the members examine their group's purpose and begin to set goals. Often, social cliques still begin to form as members begin to feel they 'fit in.'

Bid for power is a third stage in Cog's ladder. It begins when group members try to convince each other that their position on an issue is correct. Often, the field of candidates for leadership positions narrows as fewer members strive to establish power. Some of those who contributed freely to the group discussion in earlier stages now remain silent, wishing not to engage in a power struggle. It is noted that interactions arising out of this phase do not usually result in optimum solutions. However, there is a good deal for structure and patience in this stage. Many different group roles arise in this stage- such as Dominator, Harmonizer, Aggressor, Follower etc.

In a constructive stage members not only begin to accept that others have an opinion worth expressing, but a team spirit replaces hidden agenda interests. Often new levels of creativity are achieved and the group's productivity soars. If new individuals are introduced into the membership at this point they will be viewed as outsiders or intruders, and the group will have to evolve again, much as it did initially. In this stage leadership is shared.

The final Esprit' stage is an "all for one and one for all" stage that few groups reach. It's characterized by a high interdependence and shared esteem among the members.

How Can I Test My Fax Machine?

I just hooked up a new fax machine and I'd like to test it, just to make sure it works. How can I do that?

Presumably, you want to test your fax machine by sending a fax from it and receiving a fax with it. Here's how to do both.

To test the send functionality of your fax machine, send a one-page fax to 1-855-330-1239 (a toll-free number in the United States.) When it's finished transmitting, point you web browser to Fax.Toy — it's a fun web site that displays whatever is faxed to that number. Within a minute, your fax should appear on the site. Click the thumbnail to see a large version.

To test the receive functionality of your fax machine, point your web browser to FaxZero, this site lets you send faxes for free to anywhere in the United States and Canada. Within a few minutes, your fax machine should ring — hopefully. It will automatically answer and spit out the test fax.

This entry is filed under Fax Machines.

MammaPrint Result

Unable to provide result for this specimen

ADDENDUM REPORT

[redacted] on the basis of the MammaPrint 70-gene expression profile. The MammaPrint result is calculated from a numerical index formed [redacted] breast tumors and controls. The normalized Low Risk index is next to zero with tumors that are considered high risk.

For [redacted] cancer patients [redacted] risk does on average 10-year distant metastasis-free survival (DMFS) as a 95% confidence interval for systemic adjuvant patients, while High Risk indicates an average 10-year DMFS rate of 71% without any systemic adjuvant treatment.

Additional Comments:

Clinical validation for MammaPrint was performed on only female breast cancer patients. Clinical correlation for a male breast cancer patient is patients. We may unable to provide a MammaPrint result for this specimen due to insufficient amount of tumor. Please re-breast an alternate specimen if available and clinically indicated.

Assay Description

[redacted] ce. [redacted] NTM. A description of MammaPrint with fresh tissue for patients of for ages with invasive breast cancer whose tumor is [redacted] Open surgical status (LN+/-). Outside the U.S., MammaPrint has appropriate additional specimen n compliments with [redacted] fresh and formalin-fixed paraffin-embedded (FFPE) breast cancer tissue for patients with up to 3 positive lymph [redacted] s cancer patients. The test is performed using a microarray-based gene expression profile that was independently [redacted] n selection. An a reliable supervised analysis of the entire human genome - 25,000 genes, followed by a leave-one-out [redacted] model, provides a categorical classification of each patient as High Risk or Low Risk of subsequent. Therefore, this MammaPrint result provides [redacted] independently validated, and clinically significant additive information to physicians to help them decide on treatment in early stage breast cancer patients.

Based on the analytical performance of MammaPrint, the precision of classifying a sample as High Risk or Low Risk is 88% for fresh and 97.3% for FFPE, and the repeatability of the measurement is 96% for fresh and 97.8% for FFPE*. Furthermore, when a fresh sample's MammaPrint index (MPI) falls within a pre-defined area around the classification [redacted] cut-off between -0.0673 and +0.0673, the classification accuracy is less than 90%.
